

The "Beast of Berlin" and Other Hun Criminals Must Face Trial for Their Crimes

Precedent Established if Civilization Condone Acts of Hun Criminals—German Princes and Generals Must Answer for Atrocities in International Court

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The murder-and-rape gang of Germany must face the world.
Trial and fitting, just punishment of William Hohenzollern and all lesser authors and perpetrators of German ferocity, murder, arson and submarine piracy is now under consideration by the victors in the world war.
To let these men escape trial would, competent legal authorities declare, be justify for all future wars all the forms of atrociousness of which the Germans have in this war been guilty.

To try and convict and properly punish the guilty is the only way to avoid establishing a horrible precedent of unpunished crimes and barbarism of unfortified cities and unarmored ships, hospitals and ambulances, enslavement of non-combatants, destruction of towns and the use of poison gases, man-traps in evacuated places and all the other hideous things for four years practiced and defended by Germany.

It is argued also that as this is a peace by defeat and surrender without amnesty conditions, the Potsdam gang has no loopholes for escape.
Nor can the pacifists of the world intervene as they might have in a neutral zone.

IT'S VICTORY DAY

Celebrate the Glorious Victory Announced Yesterday

Parade of Labor Organizations This Morning—Victory Parade This Afternoon

Mills, Factories, Stores and Schools Closed—Thanksgiving Services in Churches

Lowell continued celebrating the great world victory today and although the celebrators were less blatant and more subdued than yesterday, nevertheless, their spirit was just as earnest and the observance just as effective as the wild sporadic outbursts of yesterday.

The city woke up this morning to find itself in a much quieter atmosphere than yesterday. No wild clanging of bells and shrieking of whistles were heard and the aftermath of yesterday's riotous celebration was a morning of peace and quietude in the Spindle City.

The morning was colder than yesterday and in marked contrast was the appearance of the downtown streets at 8.30 today and their appearance yesterday morning at the same hour.

There was hardly a person downtown and not until participants in the big labor parade began to assemble in their respective halls and headquarters did the city begin to come to life again.

It was a typical holiday—mills and factories closed, stores shut up tightly, a sauntering pedestrian on the street here and there in the early morning hours and the flags and banners which could be seen everywhere enjoying the beauty of the crisp and sunny morning all alone.

The holiday had been announced less than 24 hours before, but one would think that it had been established for years, so naturally did the city fall into its spirit.

After 7.30 the downtown streets began to take on a miniature semblance of their normal appearance. People who were compelled to work began coming in on cars and by foot and augmenting their ranks were the several thousand labor paraders.

Gradually things took on a busier aspect with hustling organizations marching in individual processions to the South common to await the formation of the parade.

Schools and offices were closed and a majority of the people took advantage of the opportunity to get a much needed rest after yesterday's continuous activity.

The various churches of the city Catholic and Protestant, held services this morning in thanksgiving and the clubs and social organizations kept open house all day.

Following the morning parade people went home for an early mid-day meal and then came back to the city for the biggest celebration of all, the official municipal Victory parade.

The State Guard
Members of the three local companies of the state guard reported for duty at the state armory in Westford street at 12.30 this afternoon and then proceeded to the South common where victory salutes were fired about one o'clock. The soldiers marched to Cabot street to await their position in line in the big procession.

South street was made a one-way street this afternoon from Middlesex to Summer and only the paraders going to the South common were allowed to use it.

The mayor's office at city hall was a busy place this morning as this had been made the official headquarters of the day. Organizations intending to take part in the afternoon parade came here to make arrangements and it was really the nucleus of the day's activities.

Organization after organization got in touch with Chief Marshal Charles S. Troctor and Chief of Staff R. E. Marden for their position in line and one could readily sense that everybody in Lowell was out to make the Victory parade the biggest event ever staged in Lowell.

At noon inquiries began to pour in as to what would be done at the common following the parade and a busy council of war was called together. It was decided that the paraders upon arrival at the common should form a hollow square with a band in the middle and that "The Star Spangled Banner" and other national airs should be sung.

The parade had special holiday programs for the afternoon and evening and following the parade the houses along the parade route were crowded to capacity.

The bands and glee clubs were "honeymooned" all day in accordance with Governor McCall's request. This evening the restaurants will be the scene of many a happy celebration.

Up to early afternoon the municipal authorities had not planned for any formal observance this evening but the general public will probably look ahead to that phase of the celebration itself with the theatres and restaurants ready to back them up to the limit.

Another ideal November day helped out materially in making Victory day in Lowell a real success. The early morning hours were crisp and sharp but soon brought on warm weather and by the time the afternoon parade was ready to get under way, the weather was most comfortable.

Germany Stripped of all Her Power and Facing Starvation Appeals to Wilson for Aid

Defeated and Deserted and Subjected to Terms of Unconditional Surrender, German People Beg for Help—Reds Order Fleet to Resist Allies—Holland Plans to Intern Ex-Kaiser—Allied Warships Enter Dardanelles

(By the Associated Press.)

Defeated on the battlefield, deserted by their emperor and subjected to terms tantamount to unconditional surrender, the German people have made an appeal to President Wilson. Conditions described as "fearful" prevail, and Dr. W. S. Solf, the foreign secretary, says in his appeal that millions face starvation if the allies do not take steps to overcome the danger.

Mutinous Sailors in Control
Mutinous sailors who are in control of most of the units of Germany's navy may, even at this late date, risk battle against the allied fleets rather than surrender their vessels under the terms of the armistice. Wireless messages to the various units have been picked up, calling upon the sailors to "defend the country against the unheard of presumption." The messages directed that the units assemble in Sassnitz harbor, on the east coast of the island of Ruegen, off the Prussian coast.

To Intern Ex-Kaiser
Holland is said to be preparing to intern William Hohenzollern and his son, former crown prince, as well as other military officers who sought refuge there. This action may prevent the former emperor from returning to Germany, should events take a sudden turn, and from following the example of Napoleon in 1815.

Allied Warships Enter Dardanelles
Allied warships have entered the Dardanelles and British naval forces have occupied Alexandretta.

German Exiles
Great Mystery Still Being Made of Destination in Holland of Ex-Kaiser

Details of Inglorious Entry Into Holland of Former German Emperor

AMSTERDAM, Monday, Nov. 11.—A great mystery still is being made of the destination in Holland of William Hohenzollern, the former German emperor. Three different country seats of the Bentinck family now are mentioned as his temporary abode.

The former German emperor made an inglorious entry into Holland, according to reports from Eysden. At 7.30 o'clock Sunday morning, 10 travel-stained automobiles driven by Prussian officers were seen coming slowly through the fog along the Viaz-Maastricht highroad. The last Belgian village, Moulain, which is almost on the border line, was still asleep. The noise of the motors brought out a crowd of curious people.

The former ruler of Germany was dressed in the uniform of a general with an officer's cap and carried a sword. The erstwhile martial figure was huddled and bent on a walking stick, while his eyes stared straight ahead.

The Dutch frontier guards stopped the cortege. After some brief formalities, the automobiles were conducted to the railway station at Eysden. Dutch cavalry and military cyclists formed a cordon about the station.

Crowds of Belgian refugees swarmed the station, crying: "A bas Guillaume! Assassin!"

An imperial train arrived at the station an hour later. It consisted of fourteen cars and William Hohenzollern, who had walked up and down the railway platform, entered the train and changed to civilian clothes. Arrangements for the reception of the Germans were made by General Van Heutz, aide-de-camp to Queen Wilhelmina, who went to German headquarters last week.

Despatches dated Monday in Amsterdam reported that the former German emperor is to be interned and also quoted the Handelsblad as saying he was not wanted in Holland. Another despatch said that officials of the Dutch government and the German minister at The Hague had gone to Eysden to meet the German exiles.

BASEBALL LEADERS
HOLD BIG MEETING

PEORIA, Ill., Nov. 12.—Leading baseball officials from all over the country arrived here today for the opening session of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues. With the war over the baseball leaders see chances for a big season, particularly among the minor leagues next season.

Much important work is to be done by the baseball men. A complete reorganization of minor league baseball will be needed before the little leagues can get into full swing again and this action is expected to be taken up at the meeting here.

Among the league men who have arrived are President Michael A. Sexton and Secretary J. A. Farrell of the National association; Daniel O'Neil of Hartford, Conn., president of the Eastern League; Joseph R. Tinker, Charles Weeghman, Louis Comiskey and Clarence Rowland.

Before taking your train home from Boston get The Sun at either newsstand in the North station.

LOWELL SOLDIER CITED FOR GALLANTRY

"I have read with much pleasure the reports of your regimental commander and brigade commander regarding your gallant conduct and devotion to duty in the field on July 15, 1918, while establishing communication under enemy fire at Vaux in the second battle of the Marne and have ordered your name and deed to be entered in the record of the Yankee Division."

No less a personage than Maj. Gen.
C. R. Edwards, commanding officer of the 26th Division, A.E.F., signed the above citation and it was addressed to a Lowell boy, Private William J. Hey of the 101st Headquarters Company.

With the dawn of peace the receipt of such citations here at home brings with it an unusually enjoyable flavor and Mr. and Mrs. William Hey of 36
Mill street, proud parents of the heroic

Lowell soldier, are today celebrating Victory day in a spirit of extraordinary joy and happiness. For their son had been among those gallants who offered their lives that Nov. 11, 1918, might be speeded and fraught with the greatest developments of all history.

Private Hey enlisted June 4, 1917, in Co. C of the old Sixth regiment, went through the usual course of preliminary training with this unit and in September, 1917, was transferred to the 101st Headquarters Company and sent overseas. He has taken part in many of the series of battles which culminated yesterday in the signing of the armistice and his letters from the war zone have been unusually interesting.

His many friends will learn with great pleasure of his gallant conduct in bringing about yesterday's great victory.

Canada's Casualties in War 211,358

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 12.—Canada's casualties in the war up to 11 days before the capture of Mons on the final morning of the conflict, totaled 211,358 men. It was announced here today. These are classified as follows:

Killed in action, 34,877; died of wounds, or disease, 15,457; wounded, 152,774; presumed dead, missing in action and known prisoners of war 82,455.

TO REDUCE WAR RISK
INSURANCE RATES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Treasury advisers today recommended to Secretary McAdoo that war risk insurance rates on hulls, cargoes, and seamen's lives be reduced 75 per cent.

BRITISH WARSHIP SUNK

The Britannia Torpedoed Near Gibraltar—712 of the Crew Saved

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The British battleship Britannia was torpedoed near the west entrance to the Straits of Gibraltar on Nov. 9, and sank three and a half hours later, according to an admiralty announcement last night.

Thirty-nine officers and 673 men were saved.

The Britannia, which had a displacement of 16,350 tons, was launched at Portsmouth Dec. 10, 1904. She was 453.7 feet in length, had a speed of approximately 19 knots an hour and carried a peace-time complement of 777 men. Her main armament consisted of four 12-inch guns.

COMPLETE REVISION OF PRIORITIES LIST

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The War Industries board today nearly completed revision of the priorities list, at least partially removing restrictions on non-war activities, and re-adjusting industries to the new situation arising from the end of the war.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Manufacture of passenger automobiles after Jan. 1, the date fixed for 100 per cent curtailment, is likely to continue because of the sudden collapse of the war and the consequent expected lessening of the government's steel demands. This information was given today by the War Industries board.

EVERY UNION IN CITY OF HAVANA ON STRIKE

HAVANA, Nov. 12.—A general strike in support of the demands of the Federated Labor Union has been called for today by a committee representing every union in the city.
Members of the harbor unions quit work more than a week ago and a number of their leaders were arrested on charges of coercion and sentenced to serve 30 days in prison.
It was in support of the demand of the liberation of the men that the general strike was called.

Street car traffic was virtually abandoned shortly after midnight and no cars are running to any of the city suburbs. The street car company claims that its men are not on strike. Reports from the investigation seem to indicate that unions there are ready to join in the walkout.

MADE FALSE AND SEDITIOUS STATEMENTS ABOUT LIBERTY
BONDS AND THRIFT STAMPS

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 12.—For making false and seditious statements about liberty bonds and thrift stamps, Frederick Q. Salem of this city was found guilty this morning by a jury in the United States district court on the first count of a secret indictment returned by the federal grand jury in October. On a second count, alleging disloyal statements in violation of the espionage act, a verdict of not guilty was returned.

Claiming that an alleged black-mailing letter received by the defendant was fabricated evidence, intended to damage the government's case, Assistant District Attorney Porter C. Cannon requested that it be further investigated.

SOLE APPEALS TO PRES. WILSON FOR HELP

LONDON, Monday, Nov. 11.—The full text of the German wireless despatch giving the reasons for the German Secretary of State to Secretary of State Lansing follows:

"Chief portions of the message received and sent out Monday night did not make clear whether Dr. Solf referred to the armistice conditions or conditions in Germany."

"Continued of the common sense and ideals of democracy, the German government has addressed itself to the president of the United States with the request to re-establish peace. This peace was meant to correspond with the principles the president always has maintained. The aim was to be a just solution of all questions in dispute, followed by a permanent reconciliation of all nations."

"Furthermore, the president declared he did not wish to make war on the German people and did not wish to impede its peaceful development. The German government has received this conditions of the armistice."

"After the blockade these conditions, especially the surrender of means of transport and the sustenance of the troops of occupation, would make it impossible to provide Germany with food and would cause the starvation of millions of men, women and children, all the more as the blockade is to continue."

"We had to accept the conditions but feel it is our duty to draw the president's attention most solemnly and in all earnestness to the fact that enforcement of the conditions must produce amongst the German people feelings contrary to those upon which alone the reconstruction of the community of nations can rest, guaranteeing a just and durable peace."

"The German people, therefore, in this fateful hour, address themselves again to the president with the request that he use his influence with the allied powers in order to mitigate these fearful conditions."

WENT OVER STONE WALL

Alfred Barlow, a resident of this city had a narrow escape from death when he ran over a stone wall with his automobile in Mammoth road shortly after 11 o'clock this forenoon. The accident occurred when Mr. Barlow switched to the right in order to avoid striking a dog. He received lacerations about the head and face. The ambulance removed him to the Lowell General Hospital. The automobile was badly damaged.

DEATHS

FERRIN—George W. Ferrin died at the home of his son, Geo. W. Ferrin, Jr., 41 Grove street, yesterday afternoon. He leaves two sons, George W. Ferrin, Jr., of Lowell and Stephen F. Ferrin of Lawrence; two daughters, Mrs. William Hollingsworth of Holyoke and Miss Grace Ferrin of Lowell. His body was removed to the rooms of Undertakers M. H. McDonough Sons.

CONDON—Anastasia Condon died yesterday afternoon at the Chelmsford street hospital. She leaves one sister, Mrs. Ellen A. Ryan. The body was removed to the rooms of Undertakers M. H. McDonough Sons.

SHAKA—Broncia Shaka, son of Michael and Ellen, died early this morning at the home of his parents, 14 Union street.

DON'T SUFFER WITH NEURALGIA

Use Soothing Musterole

When those sharp pains go shooting through your head, when your skull seems as if it would split, just rub a little Musterole on your temples and neck. It draws out the inflammation, soothes away the pain, usually giving quick relief.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister. Many doctors and nurses frankly recommend Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, cough, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or limbs, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bite—colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). It is always dependable.

AMSTERDAM, Monday, Nov. 11 (11.30 a. m.).—German troops at the Beverloo camp in Belgium have mutinied and are marching with their guns toward Holland.

HINDY REMAINS AT MAIN HEADQUARTERS

AMSTERDAM, Monday, Nov. 11.—Field Marshal von Hindenburg, according to Wolff bureau telegrams, remains at main headquarters and adheres to the new government.

The telegram adds that Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria, commander of the German northern army group, has not fled, as some reports have declared.

COPENHAGEN, Monday, Nov. 11.—

Germany's new provisional government will be all red, that is to say, the bourgeois parties will not be represented in it because the socialists, after a conference with the representatives of the former majority party in the reichstag, definitely refused to permit the bourgeois to enter the new government.

It is significant that the majority of the multitude of proclamations issued daily are addressed to "Comrades" rather than to "Citizens" and that references are no longer made "to the people's republic" but to "socialist republic."

"We are Ready for Duty on the Play Line, Mother"

TO MOTHERS! Keep your little pets physically fit, smiling, feeling their best always, by giving Cascarets, the candy cathartic, occasionally. Children love to take Cascarets. They are sweet candy-like tablets, but just wonderful to correct the little white tongue, feverish breath, sour stomach and colds. Cascarets gently "work" the bile, sour fermentations and poisons from a child's tender stomach, liver and bowels without griping or injury. Mothers who depend upon Cascarets as the children's laxative save trouble, worry and cost. Each 10 cent box of Cascarets contains directions and dose for kiddies aged one year old and upwards.

Letters From Lowell Soldiers

In a letter to his parents, Lieut. Richard D. Donoghue of the quartermaster corps, U.S.A., writes interestingly of his visit to France, whether he went less than two months ago on Front row—Hurd, Walsh, both of Lowell, Leavitt of Gloucester, Scott of Fitchburg. Standing—Landerin, Springfield; Nystrom, Chelmsford; Kleis, Concord, Mass.; Geary, Lowell; Corp. are invariably received with loud acclaim. Lieut. Donoghue expects to report to his commanding officer in New York City in a few weeks and will return home for a week's stay. He states that he feels fine and is getting stout. He writes that the Paris editions of the American papers keep the boys informed on the latest developments.

Priv. John P. Delaney of Co. A, 108th Regiment of Infantry, A.E.F., writes home to his family and friends in Lowell to say that army life in France agrees with him and that he hopes to be back home again soon, when the Kaiser has been finally laid away. Delaney is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Delaney, of 116 Fourth avenue, and enlisted in the army at New Rochelle, N. Y., in April of this year.

After a few weeks of training at a southern camp with the 108th, a New York national guard outfit, he was sent across in May in time to be of use against the great German drive of last spring, and has been in a number of engagements since then. His letters speak graphically of his experiences on French soil. In this youthful soldier, Lowell may claim one of the youngest members of the expeditionary forces, he being not quite 17 when he joined. His brother, James, is in the navy.

Corporal Sullivan

Corp. Henry Sullivan of North Billerica, member of the 101st Engineers, in France and who was among the first from this section to "go over," has written an interesting letter to The Sun, in which he states that his division has been sent on five fronts. The letter was sent on Oct. 21.

The assurance voiced in the note that the Americans would end the great conflict before the snow flies, was vindicated by the good news announced yesterday.

The letter is particularly interesting to Lowell people, as it tells of the activities of practically all the Lowell units now "over there."

The writer, Corp. Sullivan, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Sullivan and, although a resident of North Billerica, he is well and favorably known in Lowell. He was one of the city's most prominent semi-professional ball players, and played with many of the leading ball teams for several seasons. He was a member of Co. C of the Sixth Regiment at the time that unit was called into service, but was later detached and assigned to the 101st Engineers.

Corp. Sullivan also sent several pictures snapped in the war zone, and one showing a half dozen Lowell boys is presented above.

The letter is in part as follows:

Somewhere at the Front, Oct. 21, 1918.

Dear ————, Just a few lines to let you know that I am still alive and enjoying the best of health and I hope this letter finds you all the same.

We are now operating on our fifth front and trying hard to end this terrible war before the snow flies.

The Germans shell and gas us every night, but we are too speedy for them and get our gas masks adjusted before our brains are done.

On our last drive one of the fellows came across a camera and we made good use of it, by getting our physoga snapped. I am sending you some of the pictures.

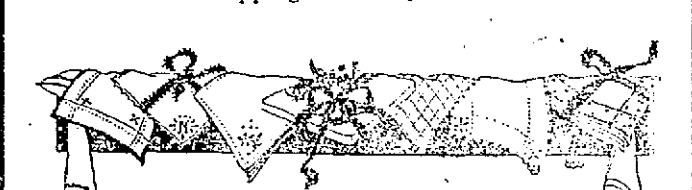

I met Ray Dowd quite often. He is looking fine, and is kept very busy over here.

The boys from Company M of the 101st, formerly of the old Ninth, are very near us and all are quite well. Every time we get a chance we visit

FOOD WON'T DROP AT ONCE, SAYS HOOVER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Immediate dropping of food prices as a result of the conclusion of an armistice cannot be expected, Food Administrator Hoover declared last night in a statement, which added that while the prices of some foodstuffs will decrease, others will increase.

"With the war effectively over," said Mr. Hoover, "we enter a new economic era, and its immediate effect on prices is difficult to anticipate. The prices of some food commodities may increase, but others will decrease, because with liberated shipping and increased stocks in the southern hemisphere and the far east will be available. The demands upon the United States will change in character, but not in volume."

All activities of the food administration will be continued through the armistice period, said Mr. Hoover, adding that "there will be no relaxation of efforts to keep down profiteering to the last moment."

NO QUININE IN THIS COLD CURE

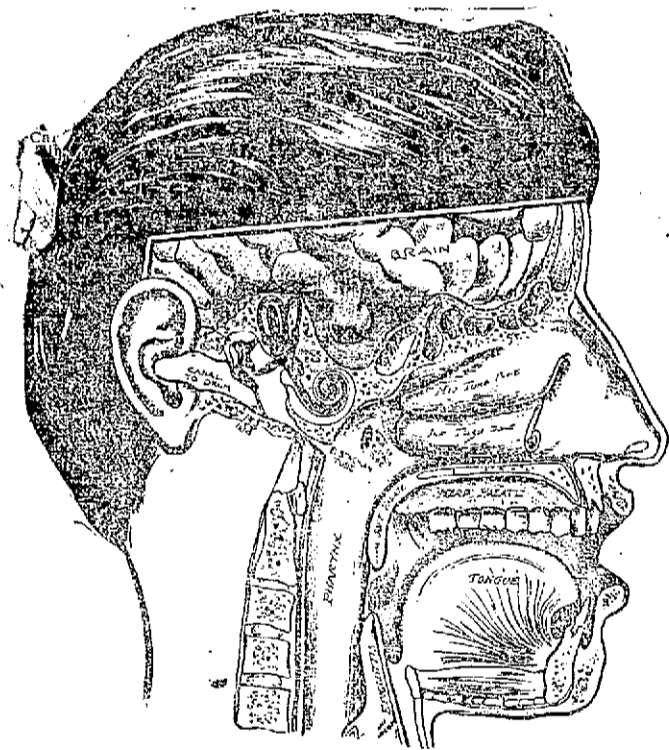

"Pape's Cold Compound" ends colds and grippe in a few hours.

Take "Pape's Cold Compound" every two hours until you have taken three doses, then all gripe misery goes and your cold will be broken. It promptly opens your clogged-up nostrils and air passages of the head, stops nasty discharge or nose running, relieves the headache, dizziness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and sniffling. Ease your throbbing head—nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only a few cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, and causes no inconvenience. Accept no substitute.

IS YOUR TROUBLE IN YOUR HEAD?

THE "DISEASES THAT KILL" OFTEN START AS TROUBLE IN THE HEAD OR THROAT

X-Ray drawing of the inside of the head and throat. These parts are usually first attacked by Catarrh. Catarrh causes colds and colds lead to many of the "DISEASES THAT KILL."

WHY IT IS RISKY

To Have Clogged Nostrils

The inside of the lower part of your head is hollow and holds the things you think with, hear with, taste with, smell with, talk with and act with. If you think right, see right, hear right, smell right, taste right, talk right and act right, you will amount to something. The only difference between the employer and his hired help is the difference between the working of their thinking and acting machinery.

If your nostrils are clogged the air does not circulate through your head as it should and the result is your brain is not cooled. A hot brain will not work right. With such a brain you do not rest well at night, get up tired and sleepy and stupid. You cannot collect your thoughts, cannot concentrate your mind on your work. The discomfort and misery of clogged nostrils is great. When your nostrils are stopped up you must keep your mouth open to get enough air. Breathing with the mouth open changes the expression of the face. Those with clogged nostrils soon develop a dull, stupid look in the face.

Catarrhal sufferers often have a feeling of heaviness or dullness in the forehead and in the temples. This feeling is not only annoying but may be so severe as to prevent the proper working of the brain. In most cases, clogged nostrils, there is considerable discharge poured out. This discharge may be watery and thin or may be tough and yellow, fast to the nostrils or it may drip back into the throat and stick to the back of the throat.

In others with catarrh the discharge drips up in the nostrils and forms yellowish or brown crusts and scabs. This dried discharge cannot be expelled by blowing the nose or by other means. The crusts and scabs are often itchy and cause much discomfort. The crusts and scabs are often itchy and cause much discomfort. The crusts and scabs are often itchy and cause much discomfort.

NOSTRILS CLOGGED FOR YEARS

Mr. Charles Paquette, 1st Moody Street, Lowell, Mass., says:

"My nostrils had been clogged for 3 years. Most of the time I could not breathe through them at all. I suffered with terrible headaches. I had to sleep with my mouth wide open. Often I would awaken in the night gasping for breath. No one will ever know the misery and agony that I endured."

"I went to a well-known doctor and was examined. My condition was such that he said I would have to be operated upon. Finally having heard so much about Dr. Powell's wonderful results in the treatment of conditions like mine, I concluded to try him."

"Today I am a new man. I breathe freely, the sense of smell has returned, and life is again worth living. I cannot praise his treatment too much. It was a revelation to me."

8 Visits for $5

If you suffer with clogged nostrils discharging, nostrils are going dead, or have head noise, or discharging ears, or have a bad throat or bad stomach, or gasp for breath and suffer from these other distressing symptoms of asthma, I will be pleased to have you call at my office. It will cost you nothing for an examination and if you begin treatment this month you will receive eight office treatments for $5. This includes all diseases of a catarrhal nature, whether the disease be in the eyes, ears, nose, throat, bronchial tubes or stomach.

He also ordered them to have the military authorities fire salutes to inform the population that the armistice has been signed and to cause all bells to be rung.

DRAFTIES AT DEPOT GET THEIR RELEASE

BOSTON, Nov. 12.—More than 3,000 newly released American soldiers from Europe were turned back to their homes from the South station yesterday morning, where they had gathered to await for Camp Lee, as soon as the president's order calling off the draft was received here. Thousands of their friends, who had come to see them off, gave expression to their relief and pleasure at the big news.

Almost as soon as the news spread through the crowd newsboys were on the ground with their "Big Extras" and their supply was soon taken by the crowds. Army officers in charge of the various increments told the men to return to their homes and consider themselves as honorably discharged from the United States army after one day.

Two trainloads of draftees from Taunton, New Bedford, Canton and Mansfield, who had got under way before the news reached these cities and towns, were halted at Providence and held there during the afternoon. The adjutant general's office wired Capt. Ballard, in charge of the contingent, to send the men back to their homes.

Shortly after the news spread abroad that the draft calls had been cancelled by the president, business houses all over Boston received phone calls from employees who had given up their civilian jobs to take one under Uncle Sam notifying them of the fact that they would be "back on the job" immediately.

The four trains which were scheduled to leave the South station at 1.15, 1.25, 2.05 and 2.15 for the south, were cancelled by the railroad officials, as soon as they received notice of the cancellation of the calls.

LONDON WILD WITH JOY

Frantically Cheer Lloyd George—Premier Says "Let's All Thank God"

LONDON, Nov. 12.—Waving flags and cheering, an enormous crowd pressed into Downing street before noon today, shouting, "Lloyd George! Lloyd George!" Finally the cheers brought the premier and Andrew Bonar Law, chancellor of the exchequer, to a second floor window of the premier's residence.

For five minutes the crowd cheered and waved flags frantically and then they sang "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." The premier stood passively and unsmiling, but his face was serene. When order and silence had been secured he spoke as follows:

"You are entitled to rejoice. The people of this country and of their allies and the people of our overseas dominions and of India have won a glorious victory. It was the sons and daughters of the people who have won it."

"It is the most wonderful victory for liberty in the history of the world. Let us thank God for it."

He bowed and disappeared. Chancellor Bonar Law, after kissing his hand to the crowd as he pulled down the window, moved away.

Singing Throngs in Streets

Hardly had the premier finished talking when a long file of shouting soldiers—British, Canadians, Australians, Americans and a few other allied contingents—passed their way through the throng and managed to reach the front of the premier's house, where they gave him a great ovation.

When the house of commons met today Premier Lloyd George, after the opening prayer, moved that the house adjourn immediately. He proposed that the members proceed to St. Margaret's church on the western side of Westminster hall.

Bands and the pipes of the Scots Guards paraded through Whitehall, playing martial and patriotic airs. They were accompanied by singing crowds, who sang and again sang the national anthem.

Scarcely before the streets of London had been paraded by such a hilarious swarm of people in many demonstrations.

A great multitude waving flags appeared before Buckingham palace shortly before noon and cheered.

King Forced to Make Speech

Speaking from the balcony of Buckingham palace, King George V.

"With you I am very glad to hold at St. Paul's in the afternoon, the for the victories which the allied armies have won and have brought hostilities to an end. Peace is within our grasp."

At the admiralty there were edicts, a speech from Sir Eric Geddes, ally, will remain in darkness for the first time. The crowds had collected there and had been improved.

An order was issued today that

THERE'S a branch of service in this country that we call "business." It's filled with men who are serving at home. They don't wear olive drab but they wear good, lasting, business clothes that match up with the work they're doing.

These men insist on clothes that have good style so that they can keep in "trim"—they insist on clothes of good quality so that they can rely on them for long wear. These are the men that find the most satisfactory service in

MASS OF THANKSGIVING

A special mass of thanksgiving in observance of the ending of the war was celebrated at St. Jean Baptiste church at 9 o'clock this morning and the service was largely attended. Yesterday afternoon a Te Deum was chanted and solemn benediction was held, the officiating clergymen being the pastor, Rev. Eugene Turette, O.M.I., Rev.

Armand Baron, O.M.I., and Rev. Augustine Gratton, O.M.I. Appropriate hymns were sung during the service by the choir with L. N. Gullbait at the organ.

DANIELS THANKS NAVY

Greetings and Congratulations Sent All Ships and Stations by Wireless

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Secretary Daniels yesterday sent by wireless this message to all naval stations and ships in home and foreign waters:

"The signing of the armistice makes this the greatest day for our country since the signing of the Declaration of Independence. For the world there has been no day so momentous for liberty."

"I send greetings and congratulations to all in the naval establishments at home and abroad. The test of a man on his toes. Every day all the men in the service have given fresh proof of devotion, loyalty and efficiency."

"In America and in all countries the people have applauded naval initiative and naval resourcefulness. As we rejoice in the victory for every principle that caused us to enter the war, let us be thankful that when the American people needed a navy we were ready with all facilities and were rapidly creating all others that could be employed."

"With warm appreciation for the perfect teamwork and splendid co-operation."

ILLUMINATES LONDON FIRST TIME IN 4 YEARS

LONDON, Monday, Nov. 11.—Heavy rain was falling tonight but the celebration began this morning continued. Outside of Buckingham palace there was a vast throng. Tens of thousands sang: "God Save the King." From time to time King George and the royal family appeared on the balcony and bowed. Wild cheers greeted their appearance.

This was the first night in four years that London had been brightly illuminated. The government suspended the regulations calling for the early closing of theatres and restaurants. This suspension will continue during the week.

King George and Queen Mary rode through the city in the Mansion house this afternoon amid enormous cheering crowds. The lord mayor presented the king to the populace, but speech was impossible. Afterward all the important generals and admirals were received at the palace.

Little work was done in London today. Employees of factories, shops and stores simply disappeared.

"WESTFORD'S CELEBRATION"

Like every other city and hamlet throughout the country, the town of Westford celebrated yesterday in good old Yankee style. Bells rang, flags waved, business was practically suspended, and the town, in company with its two smaller neighbors, Forge Village and Granville, set out to make the day an event to look back upon with joy and pride.

A parade was quickly formed when the news came through that the "Gest of Berlin" and his crowd had been

FREE FOR THIS VISIT
To all who call at the NEW AMERICAN HOTEL, Wednesday, Nov. 13, I will give Consultations, Diagnosis of Disease, and examinations, Absolutely Free of Charge.

Never before has such an opportunity been given the sick of this vicinity, and if you are suffering, you should not fail to take advantage of it. Those wishing to see him should remember the Days, Dates and Office Hours of his visits and call early to avoid the crowded last hours.

For nearly 15 years I have been studying the Chemistry of food and the Chemistry of the human body. I have put these two sciences together and formulated the science of Applied Food Chemistry. By the application of this knowledge I cure all forms of stomach and intestinal diseases, and all other disorders that result from wrong eating and drinking. This method cannot fail because it conforms to the laws of Nature.

It is estimated that ninety-two per cent. of all diseases are caused by errors in eating. These errors are made by wrong selections, wrong combinations, and wrong proportions of food. I teach you how to correct these, how to select, how to combine and how to proportion your food according to your age and your occupation. This cures by removing causes. It gives Nature a chance. This is the true science of human nutrition, and it is governed by laws as infallible as the laws of gravitation. If you obey them you cannot be sick. If you do not obey them you cannot be well.

You have no idea what your body is capable of, until you have it perfectly nourished. You have no idea what your mind is capable of, until it lives in a perfectly nourished body.

Yon have no idea of the joy of living until every bone, tissue, muscle and organ of the body is brought up to 100% efficiency, which my system does.

If you are sick or have any kind of stomach or intestinal trouble it will require a short term of curative feeding—then I balance the diet so as to give to the body all the elements of nourishment it requires according to your age and your occupation.

If medicine is needed in any case I prescribe only such remedies that do not conflict with the proper diet. I get results and this ends all argument.

Dr. NAUGHTON will positively be at the New American Hotel Wednesday, Nov. the 13th, from 10.00 o'clock in the morning until 7.00 o'clock in the evening to consult with and examine all cases personally.

J. P. NAUGHTON, M.D., Specialist
In Stomach, Heart, Catarrh, Kidney, and all Chronic Diseases that require Nature Method of Cure.
Permanent Office and Laboratory, Worcester, Mass., where all letters should be sent.

News From Camp Devens

CELEBRATE PEACE AT DEVENS BY KEEPING AT WORK—KEEP ON TRAINING

CAMP DEVENS, Nov. 12.—Camp Devens is celebrating Victory day today by keeping right on with the training. Probably none of the lads in khaki here at present will be called upon to make the supreme sacrifice on the battlefield, but the 12th Division won't stop getting ready.

As early as 5 o'clock yesterday morning telephone messages to the effect that hostilities had ceased began to come into camp. Officers were routed out of bed by civilian friends in Boston and told the glad news. Then everybody woke up and discussions were in order. In some cases until reveille was sounded.

There was no demonstration among the officers. They are glad, of course, but still there is that very human feeling that after all these weary months of training they would like to have seen a little of the big show. But not for one moment would they have the order of things changed. A world free from the wholesale blood-letting of the past four years is too sweet a prospect to influence any personal desires.

Camp Full of Visitors

It seemed that many of the men, especially in the Plymouth Division, didn't find out the whole glorious truth until dinner time. All morning long, sharply through the sparkling autumn air, came the cracking of rifles from the rifle ranges. And when the men returned to camp before mess and saw the gaily colored automobiles and the hundreds of visitors that seemed to have sprung from nowhere, they did not appear to be visibly affected.

In the Depot Brigade the story was different. Impromptu parades, the men shouting, singing, blowing bugles and generally making a racket were to be seen in the lower end of the camp. Every automobile, filled with laughing, singing, cheering visitors—and there were many of them—was greeted by long and hearty cheers from the men. Several automobiles went tearing through camp with cowbells tied to the axles, so that the bells clanged along behind the machine making a man's size racket.

Where all the visitors came from nobody seemed able to tell. People just took a day off and came to visit the boys at Camp Devens and tell them that it won't be long now.

12th Division Will Carry On

But won't it be long? This is a question that no one here seems to be able to answer.

Maj. Gen. McCall, when interviewed, said:

"This is the time for cool heads. Until we receive orders to the contrary we shall continue to train just as hard as though the Boche was still to be met. No one can tell what will develop on the other side. No man can say what conditions will have to be met and dealt with in the enemy's territory. The simple signing of an armistice, while hostilities have ceased and will probably not be resumed, does not affect the 12th Division in the least. We shall carry on. There must be no letting up until orders to do so are received."

"I have great confidence in this division. It is the best any man could desire to command. I know that these men of mine are going to see this thing in the proper light and that they will continue to prepare, prepare, prepare, until the last crisis has been passed, just as they would have fought, fought, fought until the last victory was won. That is the spirit that permeates the 12th Division. We shall carry on!"

Private Elected Senator

But if there was a minimum of celebration during the day, those who could crowd into the K. of C. buildings last night more than made up for it. In the main building there was a movie show and general jollification. In Hut 2 there was an out and out victory celebration in which the general advice regarding conduct was to make all the noise possible. In Hut 8 the 78th Infantry held a banquet, during which the signing of the armistice was said to have been mentioned occasionally.

What the fate of the 12th Division will be, of course, a question high in the minds of everybody, especially those who have boys in that outfit. It is a question that at present nobody but the war department can answer. The division hopes it will go. It is getting ready and if it is called it will respond gladly, willingly. That is as far as anyone can go at present.

There is one buck private in camp who has double reason for being happy today. The war is won. That is one reason. Then, he received word that he has been elected to the senate of the state of Connecticut. He is Private Daniel J. Bailey of the 34th Machine Gun Battalion. His home is in New Haven. Whether he will be allowed to take his seat is a question. It will be decided by the military authorities if he requests his seat.

COL. ROOSEVELT IN HOSPITAL

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Theodore Roosevelt, who was removed to Roosevelt hospital yesterday suffering from sciatica in the left leg was resting comfortably today. Dr. John H. Richards said he expected the colonel would be able to be about in 10 days or sooner.

Mrs. Roosevelt plans to occupy a room in the hospital until her husband has recovered.

CHESHAM CELEBRATES

In compliance with Governor McCall's request, there were no recessions at the Chesham schools today, but the children gathered on the common at 9.30 this forenoon where a pleasant musical program was carried out and a general good time had by all.

Chesham has peeled off its coat and gone at the task of raising its quota of $5000 in the United War Work campaign this week. Chesham people have never failed yet to give to their utmost to any cause which is dedicated to helping the boys "over there," and the town is expected to not only raise its quota, but to oversubscribe it as well in the present drive.

Three years ago I was afflicted with tuberculosis of the lungs. I was finally sent to the State Tuberculosis Hospital at Rockville, Ind., where I remained three months, getting worse all the time, and I persuaded the doctors to let me go home. I was then reduced to 122 pounds, had fever all the time, and was very weak.

As soon as I got home, I started taking MILK EMULSION. I commenced to improve at once. In a few months, I was back to 150 pounds and had completely regained my health. Since then I have been employed by Valentine & Co., meat packers, and am able to raise the strict medical examination necessary in this line of work, showing I am in perfect health.—Sam Randall, 521 So. 17th St., Terre Haute, Ind.

Hundreds of people just as badly afflicted as Mr. Randall was, tell this same story. Why not try it? If you are not satisfied with the benefit, it costs you nothing.

MILK EMULSION is a pleasant, nutritious food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and cathartics. It promotes appetite, and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder for flesh and strength, MILK EMULSION is strongly recommended to run-down, nervous people, and it has produced amazing results in many cases of tuberculosis of the lungs. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day. It works like magic on coughs and colds.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. A truly wonderful medicine for weak, sickly children.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try MILK EMULSION under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions, and if not satisfied with our results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The MILK EMULSION Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold and guaranteed by Fred Howard,—Adv.

PRIV. ARTHUR HARRISON WOUNDED IN ACTION

Private Arthur J. Harrison, son of Mrs. S. F. Harrison of 2 Davis square, has been wounded in action in France while serving with a Canadian unit in the recent war.

Private Harrison was born and brought up in Lowell, but at the time of his enlistment in September, 1917, he resided in Peabody with his wife. His brother, Private Frank Harrison, was killed in action last August while in service with one of the Canadian "wheat" units. Two sisters live in Lowell.

It is thought that Private Harrison's wound is not serious, as letters received recently have not placed any emphasis on it. In a recent letter to friends in Peabody he says in part: "I am writing you a few lines to let you know that I am well and still in the fight. I have received quite a few boxes from the Welfare association and should have written before to let you know that I received them. I have been very busy of late chasing the Hun, so perhaps that will excuse me."

"I tell you that it's a great war. I have been over the top four times in one month and have been pretty lucky, though I came near losing my luck once. We have had some big successes lately and have taken a lot of prisoners. We have had a lot of hard fighting to do, but have broken the strong German lines. The boys have got the spirit—anything we go after we never fail to get."

Mr. Randall promptly got well at home. Passes strict examination

SAVE YOUR HAIR AND BEAUTIFY IT WITH "DANDERINE"

Spend a few cents! Dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

Try this! Hair gets beautiful, wavy and thick in few moments.

If you care for heavy hair, that glimmers with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots furnish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter for a few cents; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now?

FIGHTING BREAKS OUT AGAIN IN BERLIN

AMSTERDAM, Monday, Nov. 11.—Fighting broke out once more in Berlin on Sunday afternoon, according to a message received here. It centered about Schloss square and was going on at the time the despatch was sent. German socialists and independent socialists have reached an agreement to form a joint cabinet from both parties, according to a Wolff bureau announcement. This cabinet, it is said, consists of Philipp Scheidemann, vice president of the reichstag; Herr Landsburg, member of the reichstag and Herr Göttert, socialist, and Hugo Haase, Richard Barth, editor of the Vorwaerts, and William Dittman, member of the reichstag, independents.

The new regime seems to have secured ample support from the press. In addition to the Wolff bureau, the socialists are now represented by three newspapers, the Vorwaerts, the Lokal Anzeiger, formerly the emperor's favorite newspaper and now rechristened the "Red Flag" and the former semi-official organ, the North German Gazette, which has taken the new title of "The International."

The revolutionary movement is continually spreading. Koenigsberg, Frankfurt-On-Main and Strassburg are now controlled by the soviets. It is officially reported that there are no disorders.

A soldier's council has been formed at the front and will submit its demands to Field Marshal von Hindenburg tomorrow, according to another Wolff bureau despatch.

ALLIED SOLDIERS ARE NOTIFIED OF TERMS

WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES IN FRANCE, Monday, Nov. 11 (By the Associated Press).—Orders announcing that the armistice between the allied powers and Germany had been signed, and giving directions as to the future conduct of allied soldiers along the line were sent to every corps this morning. They were transmitted to the units in the front ranks. The orders follow:

- "1. You are informed that hostilities will cease along the whole front at 11 o'clock a. m., Nov. 11, 1918, Paris time.
- "2. No allied troops will pass the line reached by them at that hour in date until further orders.
- "3. Division commanders will immediately sketch the location of their front line. This sketch will be returned to headquarters by the courier bearing these orders.
- "4. All communication with the enemy, both before and after the termination of hostilities, is absolutely forbidden. In case of violation of this order, severest disciplinary measures will be immediately taken. Any officer offending will be sent to headquarters under guard.
- "5. Every emphasis will be laid on the fact that the armistice is an armistice only, and not a peace.
- "6. There must not be the slightest relaxation of vigilance. Troops must be prepared at any moment for further operations.
- "7. Special steps will be taken by all commanders to insure strictest discipline and that all troops be held in readiness fully prepared for any eventuality.

EXPECT NEW MARK IN FOREIGN TRADE

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Every probability that the foreign trade of the United States will make a new high record during 1919 is shown in a compilation by the National City Bank, which estimates the trade, based upon the figures to date, as follows: Total imports, $3,100,000,000, and the exports $3,200,000,000. This $9,300,000,000, approximate total, compares with $9,150,000,000 in 1917, the former high record. The aggregate excess of exports over imports for the 4 1/2 years of war will exceed $11,000,000,000, or more than that of the 39 years preceding the war.

The imports from Europe for the year will approximate only $350,000,000 against $850,000,000 in 1917 and $900,000,000 in 1912. Even exports to Europe will show a slight decline compared with last year, approximating $3,900,000,000 against $4,050,000,000 in 1917. The estimate does not include the large unrecorded exports to Europe upon government vessels, which are not required to report to custom houses.

Lack of vessels to trade with South America and Africa materially reduced the trade with these continents and may bring their total for the full year slightly below that of 1917. From present indications, how-

The imports from all our neighbors of this continent and the West Indies seem likely to total about $1,000,000,000, against $872,000,000 in 1917, and the exports to all America approximately $1,200,000,000 against $1,235,000,000 in 1917.

RINGS SAME BELL AS AT LEE'S SURRENDER

BOSTON, Nov. 12.—Fifty-three years ago, on April 9 last, Charles F. White, of 220 Warren st., Brookline, then a lad of 9 years, went with his schoolmates and tolled the bell on the First Parish church, near the corner of Walnut and Warren streets, Brookline, in celebration of Lee's surrender at Appomattox.

Yesterday morning at 6:15 Mr. White ran over to the church from his home and tolled the same old bell in honor of the great allied triumph overseas. He sounded the old bell with the same old boyish enthusiasm and said he wouldn't have missed the chance for anything.

Mr. White, who is a prominent Brookline citizen, was awakened early yesterday morning by the din of horns and whistles. Learning the cause he got into his clothes as quickly as he could, got the janitor to open the church and in a jiffy he was tugging at the bell rope.

In April, 1865, Mr. White was a pupil of Susan Hale, sister of Edward Everett Hale, in a little school on Dudley street, near the church. She received word of Lee's surrender, closed the school for the day and took the children over to the church to ring the bell.

Other buildings have been erected on the site of the old church, but the one now standing is still called First Parish. The bell, however, is that which hung in the belfry half a century ago.

VICTORY FOR HUMAN FREEDOM

Peace! Peace! Blessed Peace settles once more upon this war-torn world and it is a peace for which the United States can take a large share of the credit.

Without the entrance of the United States, it is very doubtful whether the entente allies could have won a complete and triumphant peace. The best that otherwise might have been accomplished would have been a compromise with German militarism which while it might end the war temporarily, would cause the world nations to prepare for another and a greater war.

But with the United States espousing the cause of the allies, the outcome was never for a moment in doubt. The arrival of our forces in France put new life and spirit into the war-weary armies of the entente and the first real battle in which the United States soldiers engaged, turned the Germans backward in their course, and they never for a single day got a chance to recover until the terms of the armistice were signed and peace declared at 6 o'clock Washington time on the morning of November 11.

We rejoice at this result in behalf of gallant stricken Belgium, which saved Paris by holding the German armies in the full force of all their power and might until France got ready to meet them.

We rejoice with glorious France which poured out her blood with a heroism, patience and abandon never excelled by any nation; and we rejoice too, for gallant Italy which did such splendid work in the last stages of the war although she had previously suffered one dreadful defeat as a result of the deceitful German propaganda. Italy, however, reversed the situation and her heroic efforts in scaling high mountains in order to reach the enemy, can hardly be appreciated by those who know not the difficulties she had to overcome.

And we rejoice quite heartily for poor little war-ravaged Serbia and for crushed Rumania, both of which can now rise in triumph to a new birthright in a world redeemed and bathed in the blessed light of universal freedom.

In this victory there is superabundant cause for rejoicing for England whose navy saved the civilized world on the sea. She has won many victories in the past which redounded chiefly to her own power and greatness, but in this victory, she stands not alone; but in full partnership with France, Italy and the United States. Her most hated and jealous rival lies crushed in the dust and the chief disturber of world peace is a fugitive from the just vengeance that will yet end his ill-starred career.

The objects for which the United States entered the war have been accomplished and now we proceed to assist in establishing democratic governments on the ruins of the old militaristic nations of Germany, Austria, Russia and Turkey.

In this victory there is undying glory for the United States and personally for President Wilson through whose statesmanship the autonomy of Germany was placed in the pillory before the entire world and the principles of freedom and democracy embraced by practically all the nations of the earth. When President Wilson declared that the military authorities of Germany were unworthy of being trusted as parties to any international compact, he sounded the death knell of the Prussian military system which we have seen vanish during the last few days. In this light the foresight and statesmanship of President Wilson accomplished more in paving the way for the downfall of German militarism than could have a very large army.

Subject nations and peoples that for several centuries have been striving towards freedom, will now be welcomed into the family of free nations under democratic rule. Poland, Armenia, Ukraine, the Czechoslovak races and Siberia will be among the peoples to be given the right to self determination and when liberty is being dealt out to the subject nationalities we expect that Ireland will be among the number.

The problems ahead are momentous, but the allied powers will soon establish general order and will see also that Russia will be delivered from the reign of terror under the Bolsheviks who are the worst band of brigands that has ever appeared in any nation. Their ideas of what popular government means are the reversal of justice and right by which crime and iniquity are put in the saddle.

The scope of this great victory will thus be extended to all oppressed peoples; peace and liberty will be vouchsafed to all the world and all nations, races and creeds shall unite in building up a new civilization to be based upon the principles of justice, mercy and charity preached by the Nazarene in His gospel of love and peace to all mankind.

YELLOW JOURNALISM

The American people have had a great lesson upon yellow journalism in the fake despatch to the effect that the armistice had been signed by Germany, that hostilities had ceased at 2 o'clock last Thursday and that the war was thereby ended.

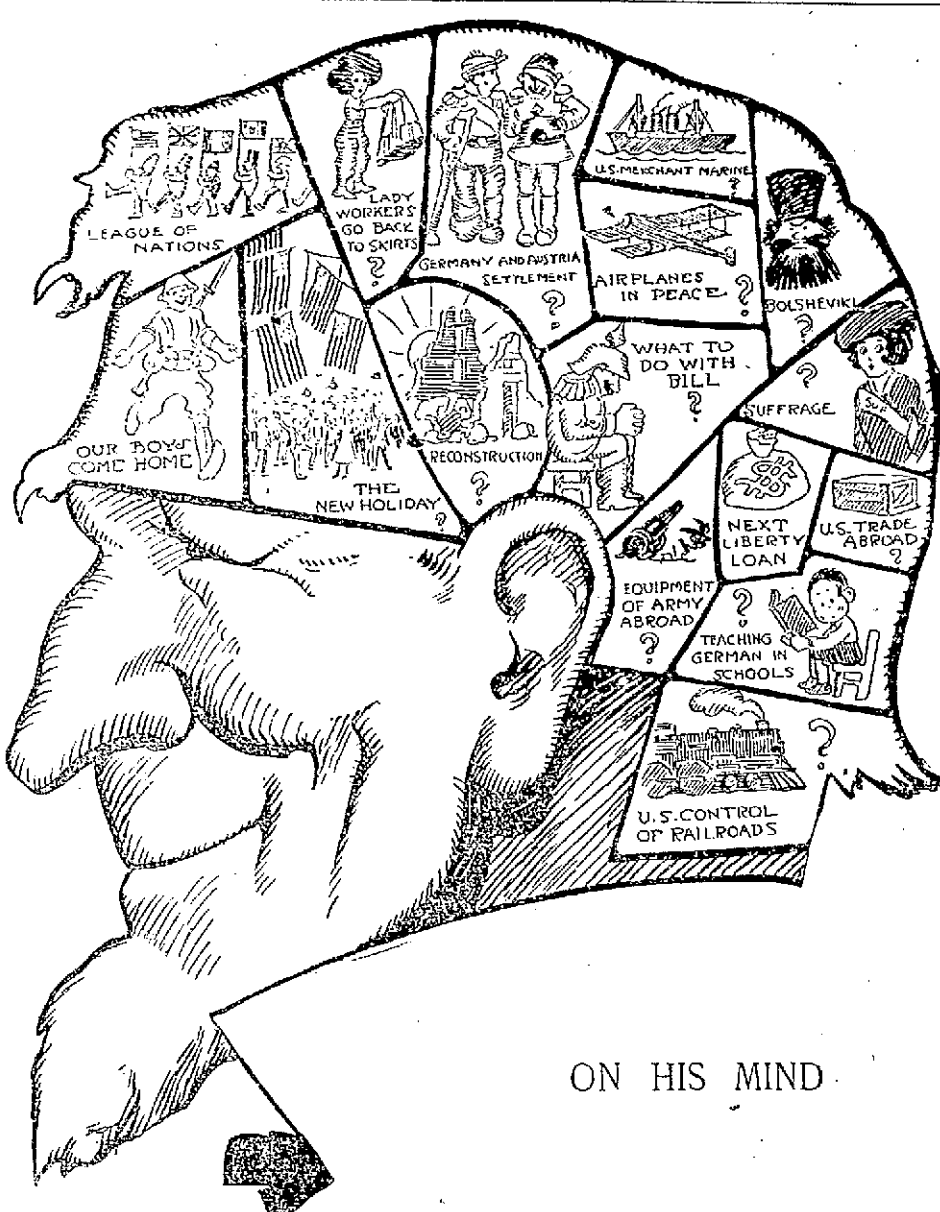

We notice that the papers which have been responsible for spreading this hoax upon the American people are trying to shift the responsibility and explain it away by saying that would release part of the blame upon Admiral Wilson and that he had been sent after the other explanation that it could not be explained.

None of these excuses can intelligently be made and the people should be given a great lesson upon yellow journalism in the fake despatch to the effect that the armistice had been signed by Germany, that hostilities had ceased at 2 o'clock last Thursday and that the war was thereby ended.

It is now pertinent to ask whether there is any law to prevent the publication of such a hoax as this? The answer is no, but the people should be given a great lesson upon yellow journalism in the fake despatch to the effect that the armistice had been signed by Germany, that hostilities had ceased at 2 o'clock last Thursday and that the war was thereby ended.

ON HIS MIND

ican public. It caused some people to charge that the authorities at Washington were withholding news of the war. It was for this reason that President Wilson was obliged to deny publicly that there was any foundation for the charge that war news was being withheld and to say that he would announce the signing of the armistice just as soon as the news reached Washington.

In view of the great inconvenience to the country, the imposition upon the public and the financial and other losses resulting from the premature celebrations, simple justice demands that some legal steps should be taken to prevent a repetition of any such gigantic hoax as that perpetrated by the United Press last Thursday.

WAR WORK CAMPAIGN

The declaration of peace should only encourage the war work campaign which opened yesterday, backed by all leading war work organizations, by the government and the churches throughout the country. President Wilson has made an urgent appeal to the American people, expressing the opinion that the great service rendered by these welfare agencies is indispensable to the army and navy and all those who happen to be victims of the ravages of war. The day of peace will be followed by a long period of semi-military service, so that it is not to be expected that our armies will be demobilized until new governments and settled conditions are established throughout Europe and Asia.

The appeal of Cardinal O'Connell and other church authorities in behalf of this campaign should also be seriously considered and with that of President Wilson, should bring a most generous response.

The local war work committees have put a great deal of labor into the preparations for this campaign and it is but right that the community should stand by them loyally in making up or even oversubscribing the Lowell quota.

The news that has come to us, announcing an armistice, under conditions that make a renewal of hostilities by Germany impossible, must certainly have lightened the hearts of our people in the realization that no more of our soldiers will be killed and that within a reasonable time they will return to their homes.

It will require a considerable time to clean up the odds and ends and to assist in the organization of the new governments. But if nothing more had to be done, the money can be well spent for our soldiers and sailors who have been wounded in the conflict and who are soon to return to our shores to resume life under new conditions in the communities from which they departed in the height of their young manhood.

So many appeals have been made in behalf of this campaign that it is needless to enter into further explanation of the reasons. Suffice it to say that they are sufficient to reach the patriotism of every citizen so that we expect that Lowell as in former cases, will go over the top in rolling up this war work fund.

PUNISH THE KAISER

When the Kaiser saw the terms of the armistice, he must have realized that as soon as the people came to learn the drastic nature of the demands of the allies, they would base all patience and seek revenge on the war lords. He sized up the situation correctly and quickly the country. But the Kaiser will not be allowed to escape. Indicted on three different occasions in England on the charge of murder in the Lusitania outrage, he can be extradited on this charge and punished same as any other criminal. The world will not be satisfied with the species of justice that would let the murderer of ten million people escape and follow the man who kills one of his fellow beings in cold blood, to the ends of the earth in order to punish him for his crime.

Yes, the Kaiser should be convicted and given a form of death similar to that which he decreed for many thousands brave men not only among the armies of the allies, but also among his own troops which he drove to certain slaughter in solid formation against the guns of the allies.

He should first be taken out and gassed in the regular German style and afterwards blown to atoms by one of the German bombs so often used with ruthless brutality on non-combatants during the war. We would not condemn him to be crucified after the brutal manner in which his butchers killed some American soldiers. That would perhaps be a desecration of the cross.

Another form of death that might be appropriate for such an archcriminal would be to put him in a life boat some distance from a large steamer and send him to the bottom with a volley from the guns of a submarine.

But whatever form of death the allied powers should decree should be carried out. This worst of all criminals in the annals of war should not be allowed to escape. If it were possible to inflict the death penalty upon him ten thousand times over, he would then fall far short of his deserts.

THE CELEBRATION

The crowds who let loose in wild abandon around our streets yesterday in the celebration of the declaration of peace, were in general good natured and well behaved. They shouted and cheered and made all kinds of noise, but that was to be expected. In viewing such a demonstration, one might easily imagine what might happen if the people, instead of wildly rejoicing, were excited to fury against their rulers and were rushing forth to wreak vengeance upon their heads. This might offer an idea of what has been in progress in Germany for the last few days. The German people have suffered more perhaps than we can realize in this country, during their four years of war, and all during that period they were led by the war lords to believe that victory was certain, that the allies would pay all expenses, that Germany would rule the world, and that the Fatherland would be amply repaid for all the sacrifices made in its behalf. The people now realize how over that the Kaiser was but deluding them when he claimed to represent God while committing the most heinous crimes. Hereafter they will have a different idea of God and His justice. They will see that the Kaiser was but a blasphemer, the archcriminal of the age, the assassin of his people and of the Fatherland.

SEEN AND HEARD

Germans are wearing clothing made from the nettle. May it sting be as effective as in the natural state.

The Russian "government" now wants an armistice. We'll be getting a wireless from Alaska and the moon, next, asking for armistices. We aren't fighting Russia, and more than we are the planets.

When Emma, that pleasant schemer, announced by the food administration, to ration America in order to feed the army after the war, may not meet with cordial co-operation on the part of the general public.

No, of course, Austria didn't understand that the armistice was to allow us to invade Germany through her territory. She thought we wanted control of her railways merely to give our troops little joy rides to Austrian pleasure resorts.

Andrew's Best Joke

Andrew Carnegie is now 55 and resting on his oars, but he still delights to reminisce, and the following is one of his favorite stories:

"He was passing through a small town and paused before the new Carnegie library. He was inspecting it when a native came along and remarked:
"It's a mighty fine building, ain't it, stranger. I'll always bless the name of Carnegie."
"But you don't look as though you had much use for libraries," said the surprised iron master.

"Well, it ain't as much me as my wife," was the reply, "she's got the job washing the floors twice a week."

Very Clever Girl

"We hear a lot of joking about the shortage of marriageable men on account of the war," remarked Senator Smith of Georgia, "and I guess it must be true, judging from a proposal I just heard from my state. Here was how she worked it:

"There goes our minister. He's very poor. I wish I could hand him a five."
"Let me do it," exclaimed the youth on whom she had designs.

"O, Archie, this is so sudden," blushed the sweet young thing, and what chance did he have?

Hard on the Dog

One of Sec. McAdoo's clerks showed his boss a clipping from the home town of the day which read as follows:
"Eric Faunstrom, south of town, has a Scotch terrier dog, from which he clipped enough wool last year to make himself two pairs of socks, which he wore all last winter. His mother did the spinning and knitting."

The secretary read it carefully and remarked, "Very clever, but I'm inclined to think it's going a little too far. There are many woolly dogs of course. A neighbor of mine has one which always looks to me like an artificial dog made of wool and coming loose in places. But it would take me some time to get used to wearing socks taken from the back of my dog. No doubt it is a foolish sentiment, but I should feel ashamed every time I looked the dog in the face."

Mexican in Parade

Jennie, the little Mexican donkey mentioned in these columns a few weeks ago, jumped into the limelight again yesterday by participating in the foray celebration. Jennie, it will be remembered, is a native of Mexico who has for the past year been a very popular member of the Wood family at 36 Walnut street. When the news of the parade reached the Wood residence, Jennie immediately applied to her daddy for permission to ring Jennie in on the celebration. Mr. Wood assented and very soon, young Francis took his place in the line with his mount said-

Matrimony After War

A scientist of great profundity has been at pains to calculate what the percentage of men to women will be in the belligerent countries after the war, and to make certain deductions therefrom as to the future. In England, France and the United States, as well as in hostile countries, the female population will largely exceed the male, with the result that a good many ladies will have no matrimonial partners. But this, while entailing much grief upon the lonely ones, will make for the welfare of the race, says this professor of eugenics, because men will have a wider field of selection and will, therefore, take their pick of the best.

All of which shows that a man may be a fine statistician and have no sense. Men will marry after a war for precisely the same reason which impelled them to marry before the war, which, in most cases, was no reason at all. They will not approach the subject in a scientific state of mind. They will approach it in a fool state of mind, as in the past. They will not know how to pick out the best mates, and they wouldn't do so if they knew how. They will keep on falling in love and marrying in the same illogical fashion that has always prevailed.

Down in Lawrence it seems to have been somewhat different in regard to the saloons being closed. I wonder if the Lawrence saloons would get around to stop selling if the city was burning up? Yesterday it occurred to members of the chamber of commerce that large crowds and the booze flowing plentifully for all those who had the price or could drink and get out of the crowd before pay time came, might not mix well together. This chamber of commerce committee asked the municipal council to request the license commissioners to request the saloon owners to suspend business. The municipal council declined to do this and went far enough to say that it would not take any part in the matter. So the saloons kept open and Lawrence enjoyed her usual pollution of today.

Ed Looney, member in good standing of the U. S. Cartridge company's band, has always heretofore thought the uniforms of his band were all right and conformed to standard; good enough so that they need not be confused with uniforms worn by street railway men. Saturday afternoon, however, he was undeceived. He was standing in front of the "Sun" building, in his bandman's uniform, when a soldier from Camp U.S. stepped up to him and said, "If you're a trolleyman's uniform, probably you can give me some information I want badly."

He stated his case. It so happened that what the soldier wanted to know was something Ed knew readily, so, after looking down at his uniform and then at the soldier, he answered, the soldier's question correctly and said nothing to change the soldier's belief that he was a trolley official.

The soldier thanked him profusely and said he was pleased to meet a trolleyman like that because he had generally found they weren't as well informed on things like that as he seemed they ought to be.

So then Ed gave his bandman's spangles the once over again and wondering if he could run an electric car, started for home.

I rather expected the playhouse managers would run a forerun show today, but they claim the volume of business on Saturday, even on such an extraordinary holiday as today has been, would not be sufficiently large to warrant overworking their musicians, motion picture operators and ushers. They express themselves as being satisfied to take care of what business they can run in from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. and when there has been as many people clamor for admission as was the case today, the show managers may well be satisfied.

HUN LEADERS NOTIFIED OF END OF WAR

LONDON, Nov. 11. (British Wireless Service).—The following message was sent by wireless by the German plenipotentiaries:

"To the German high command, to be communicated to all authorities interested:

"Radio received. Armistice was signed at 5 o'clock in the morning. French time. It comes into force at 11 o'clock in the morning. French time. Delay for evacuation prolonged by 24 hours for the left bank of the Rhine besides the five days; therefore, 31 days in all. Modifications of the text with that brought by Hildt will be transmitted by radio.

"(Signed) Erbsberger."

"The text of the above dispatch contains an evident inaccuracy as to the time allowed Germany for evacuating the left bank of the Rhine, but the figures are printed as contained in the wireless report."

U. S. PROGRAM ALTERED
BY TRUCE

Some of the changes in the government's program, as a result of the armistice, in tabular form are:

Draft calls cancelled.

Conveying of shipping to European ports to cease.

Work stopped on new naval explosive plant in Wisconsin.

Projected $8,000,000 naval nitrate plant at Indian Head, Md., abandoned.

Slight relaxation of restrictions on non-war building expected immediately.

Abandonment of all censorship on news likely soon.

Officers' training camps to be stopped, where men have not begun course.

Big air program to be modified gradually.

Purely war work contracts to be stopped.

Men of Naval Reserve to be released on request as quickly as possible.

Naval estimates to be based on 500,000 personnel, instead of 700,000.

Overtime and Sunday work in shipyards abolished.

Activities Continued

Classification of registrants under selective service, aged 19 to 37 and of 18-year-old youths.

$1,500,000,000 monthly expenses of government to continue this winter; Allies to get further funds; another war loan planned for spring; advances to peace industries likely.

Government operation of telephone and telegraph communications to continue for at least a year.

APPEALS FOR UNITED WAR WORK FUND

BOSTON, Nov. 12.—Charles F. Weed, chairman of the committee in charge of the United War Work campaign in this state, appealed today to the people of Massachusetts and New England, not to forget their obligations to the American soldiers during their celebration of the coming of peace.

Contributions reported from various Massachusetts chairmen today totaled $70,748 as compared with a million and a half reported yesterday by the committee announced while the Boston metropolitan district reported but $100,000 returns from Maine showed a state total of $212,000 out of a quota of over $200,000. Other states in New England thus far have reported no definite figures.

NO MORE STUDENTS FOR TRAINING CAMPS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Orders went out today to the heads of all military departments to discontinue at once the acceptance of applications for admission to the central officers' training camps. No decision has been reached regarding the closure now in progress of these camps, but it was intimated here that the students would be permitted to complete the course.

MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE

GREENFIELD, Nov. 12.—Reginald A. Johnson of Keene, N. H., was held on a charge of manslaughter in court here today as the result of an accident in Northfield late yesterday in which Oliver Melvior of Keene was slain. Johnson was charged with manslaughter in the death of Melvior when the automobile driven by Johnson collided with a telephone pole.

WM. H. BARTER DEAD

MELROSE, Nov. 12.—William H. Barter of Whitcomb, a member of Governor McCall's military staff, died at a hospital here today of injuries sustained in a collision between an automobile and a trolley car. Three other members of the party are at the hospital but physicians said their condition was not critical. Hugh A. Quinn, of Boston, who was operating the machine, was arrested, charged with reckless driving.

DIES WATCHING PARADE

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 12.—Rev. Martin L. Williston, a retired Congregationalist minister who had held pastorates in Massachusetts and elsewhere, died while watching a street parade last night. He was 75 years of age, a graduate of Amherst, and leaves a widow and three children.

UNITED STATES NAVY NOT TO RELAX VIGILANCE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Until German submarines and other war craft designated in the armistice terms had been surrendered and the remainder of the enemy's naval forces disabled, Secretary Daniels said today, the American navy would in no way relax its vigilance. Instructions to this effect, following those given by General Pershing to the army in France, are assumed to be already in the hands of the commanders of all ships.

UNION SERVICE AT ST. ANNE'S CHURCH

The Lowell Federation of Churches held a Thanksgiving service this morning at 11 o'clock at St. Anne's Episcopal church. The large auditorium was well filled and all the Protestant churches in the city were represented. The congregation sang and was assisted by the large church choir.

When the last notes of the chimes ceased their tones which pealed forth sweet and clear on the morning air, and the long stream of people had been seated, the service of prayer and praise for the victory which has come to this country, began with the singing of the Song of the Allies.

Prayer was offered by Rev. James Bancroft of St. John's Episcopal church.

Rev. William F. English, Jr., of the Kirk Street Congregational church then read from Deut. 28: "And it shall come to pass that thou shalt hearken unto the voice of the Lord thy God. The Lord thy God shall lift thee on high. All these blessings shall come unto thee if thou shalt hearken unto the voice of the Lord."

The "Star Spangled Banner" was sung in fervent spirit. A short Scripture lesson was then read by Rev. Asa Reed Dilts, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church, and was followed by the singing of "Mine Eyes Have Seen the Coming of the Glory of the Lord."

Rev. Appleton Grannis then spoke a few words of welcome to the ministers of the various churches, as well as to the visitors from other congregations. He emphasized the fact that in the days to come a united Christianity is needed. "This is a holy war," he said, "in which we have been engaged; a war for the preservation of liberty. We are not these convictions; this war would never have been brought to a successful conclusion. Over 100 years ago, Victor Hugo tells us in connection with the battle of Waterloo that many times complete and final victory was in the grasp of Napoleon but something seemed to defeat his plans. Those of us who followed this great struggle have felt that victory might almost come in the powers of might, and have seen dark days when the cause seemed almost hopeless."

A short address was then given by Rev. Mr. Dilts, who emphasized the fact that an unseen and a guiding spirit was directing the allies in the darkest hours. "In the first battle of the Marne," he said, "when the Germans were within twenty miles of Paris, Lord Kitchener in London, when commenting on the turning of the tide, said, 'Somebody must have been praying.' On July 18 of last year, near Chateau-Thierry, when the German hordes were coming on in endless numbers, the French said to their American brothers, 'You'd better come back to us, they outnumber us fifteen to one.' At the west of Chateau-Thierry, forty miles from Paris, these German masses came around the bend. The American Marines cried to the French, 'Come, brothers, with us; you're going the wrong way,' and the French told themselves that this was the only line that would not break. The Germans far outnumbered the American Marines, but that mattered not, and the next morning the Germans had left. I am proud to say my son was one of those very boys who were in the fray, those American boys who went in laughing, and I am happy to say he was one of the laughing American boys on duty the next morning. We cannot in any other way explain the turning of the tide except that Almighty God had intervened."

Rev. Mr. Dilts closed with reciting Mr. Kipling's familiar poem, "The Recessional."

"America, the Beautiful," was then sung, followed by a hymn of thanksgiving. Rev. Mr. Shaw gave the benediction, and "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," concluded the service.

HOW TO FIGHT
SPANISH INFLUENZA

Avoid crowds, coughs and cowers, but fear neither germs nor Germans! Keep the system in good order, take plenty of exercise in the fresh air, and practice cleanliness. Remember a clean mouth, a clean skin, and clean bowels are a protecting armor against disease. To keep the liver and bowels regular and to carry away the poisons within, it is best to take a vegetable pill every other day, made up of May-apple, aloes, senna, and sugar-coated to be had at most drug stores, known as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. If there is a sudden onset of cold symptoms, take a cold cream should go to bed, wash your face with mustard foot-bath and drink copiously of hot lemonade. If pain develops in head or back, ask the druggist for Ananie (anti-uric) tablets. These will flush the bladder and kidneys and carry off poisonous matter. To control the pains and aches take one Ananie tablet every two hours, with frequent drinks of lemonade. The poisons appear in a most treacherous way, when the influenza victim is apparently recovering, and anxious to leave his bed. In recovering from a bad attack of influenza or pneumonia the system should be built up with a herbal tonic, such as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, made without alcohol from the roots and barks of American forest trees, as the "Tonic" (from Tonic) which can be obtained at most drug stores, or send for Dr. Pierce's Invalid's Food, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial package. "Tonic" is just as good as Dr. Pierce's other medicines.—Adv.

Peace and Thanksgiving

Peace is come!

"The Captains and the Kings depart."

Through all the world runs a deep hymn of joy and thanksgiving. Albert, the true-hearted, riding proudly at the head of his little army of unconquerable Belgians, will see again his beloved Brussels.

France, the superb, may tarry now to note the reverent homage poured at her steadfast feet.

England may call to her home ports her mighty fleet behind whose bulwark Liberty has sheltered.

Italy may turn again to the gracious things of life, her bitter hour of travail ended.

And the "lesser peoples," who through all the four years of agony and unspeakable heartache have done their share eagerly and well, may look into the future unafraid.

To America, humbly and patiently learning the grim rules of war from her elder brothers, peace means relief beyond words and thanksgiving beyond telling in a thousand thousand homes.

No nation ever stood behind its lads in battle with the passion of service America has given. But that service is not done, nor will be done until they come again to our shores as clean in body and mind as they are now.

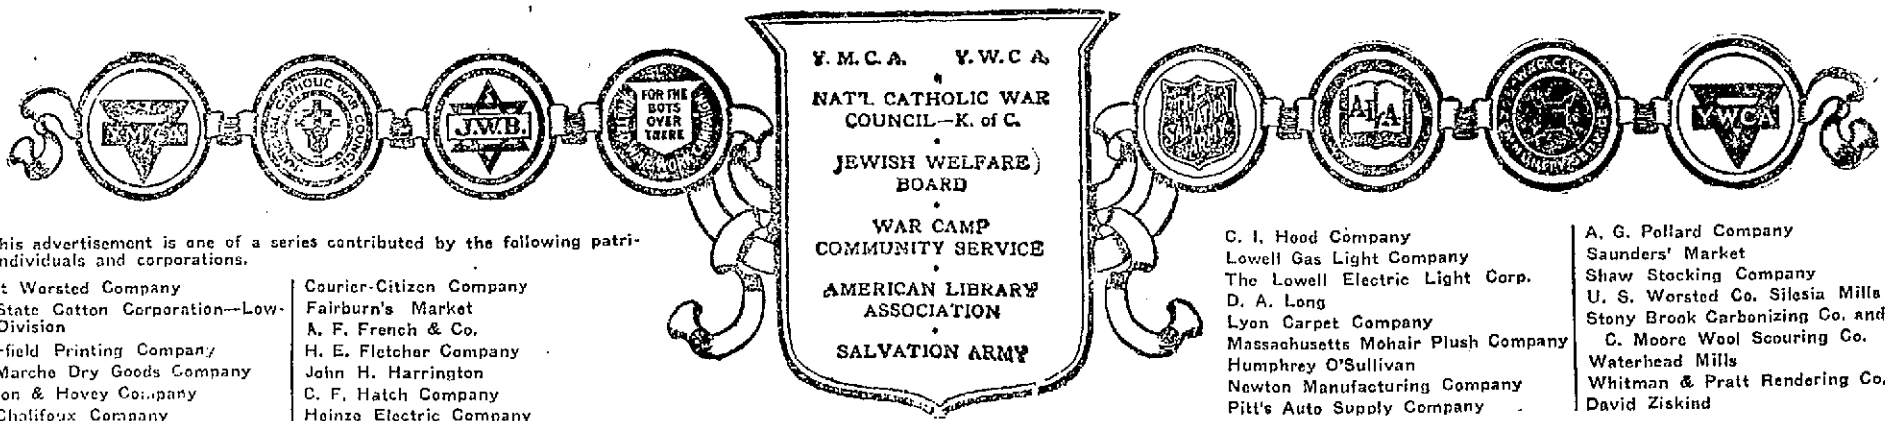

It is particularly happy that the seven great agencies which have taken the friendliness of home to our soldiers should be asking the American people for $250,000,000 as peace comes.

Who is there of us who out of the greatness of his thanksgiving will not give and give and give—now, when with the stress of strife at an end, the days of idleness tempt our lads; now, when they feel the goal won, they let slip their own iron discipline of themselves; now, when they turn their eyes to home and descend into the black swamp of homesickness.

Now, more than ever, we need this great sum to keep up their high ideals. And it is only the deepest wisdom, for to these returning hosts we shall hand in but a few years the destiny of our beloved land.

New England gave the world its greatest ideals of liberty and freedom. Let it keep the faith by doing its share in this work, yes, many-fold more than its share.

PRESIDENT WOODROW WILSON

HUNS POWERLESS

Germany's Abject Surrender
Is Shown in Terms of Armistice

Great Military and Naval Machine Crushed—Full
Reparation for Outrages

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The terms of the armistice agreed upon by the associated powers and Germany, as read to congress yesterday by President Wilson, follow:

I. Military clauses on western front: Cessation of operations by land and air six hours after the signature of the armistice.

Two: Immediate evacuation of invaded countries: Belgium, France, Alsace-Lorraine, Luxembourg, so ordered as to be completed within fourteen days from the signature of the armistice. German troops which have not left the above mentioned territories within the period fixed, will become prisoners of war. Occupation by the allied and United States forces jointly will keep pace with evacuation in these areas. All movements of evacuation and occupation will be regulated in accordance with a note annexed to the stated terms.

Three: Reparation, beginning at once and to be completed within 14 days or all inhabitants of the countries above mentioned, including hostages and persons under trial or convicted.

Four: Surrender in good condition by the German armies the following equipment: Five thousand guns (two thousand five hundred heavy, two thousand five hundred field), 30,000 machine guns, 3000 minenwerfers, 2000 aeroplanes (fighters, bombers—firstly D. 7's and night bombing machines), the above to be delivered in situ to the allied and the United States troops in accordance with the detailed conditions laid down in the annexed note.

Five: Evacuation by the German armies of the countries on the left bank of the Rhine. These countries on the left bank of the Rhine shall be administered by the local authorities under the control of the allied and United States armies of occupation. The occupation of these territories will be determined by allied and United States parties holding the principal crossing of the Rhine, Mayence, Coblenz, Cologne, together with bridgeheads at these points in 30 kilometers radius on the right bank and by garisons similarly holding the strategic points of the regions, a neutral zone shall be reserved on the right of the Rhine between the stream and a line drawn parallel to it 40 kilometers to the east from the frontier of Holland to the parallel of Gerushelm and as far as practicable a distance of 30 kilometers from the east of stream from this parallel upon Swiss frontier. Evacuation by the enemy of the Rhine lands shall be so ordered as to be completed within a further period of 11 days, in all 12 days after the signature of the armistice. All evacuation and occupation will be regulated according to the note annexed.

Six: In all territory evacuated by the enemy there shall be no evacuation of inhabitants; no damage or harm shall be done to the persons or property of the inhabitants. No destruction of any kind to be committed. Military establishments of all kinds shall be delivered intact as well as military stores of food, munitions, equipment not removed during the period fixed for evacuation. Stores of food of all kinds for the civil population, cattle, etc., shall be left in situ. Industrial establishments shall not be impaired in any way and their personnel shall not be moved. Roads and means of communication of every kind, railroad, telegraph, telephone, shall be in no manner impaired.

Seven: All civil and military personnel at present employed on them shall remain. Five thousand locomotives, 2000 wagons and 10,000 motor lorries in good working order with all necessary spare parts and fittings, shall be delivered to the associated powers within the period fixed for the evacuation of Belgium and Luxembourg. The railways of Alsace-Lorraine shall be handed over within the same period together with all pre-war personnel and material. Further material necessary for the working of railways in the country on the left bank of the Rhine shall be left in situ. All stores of coal and material for the upkeep of permanent ways, signals and repair shops left entire in situ and kept in efficient state by Germany during the whole period of armistice. All barges taken from the allies shall be restored to them. A note appended regulates the details of these measures.

Eight: The German command shall be responsible for revealing all mines or delay acting fuse disposed on territory evacuated by the German troops and shall assist in their discovery and destruction. The German command shall also reveal all destructive measures that may have been taken (such as poisoning or polluting of springs, wells, etc.) under penalty of reprisals.

Nine: The right of requisities shall be exercised by the allies and the United States armies in all occupied territory. The upkeep of the troops of occupation in the Rhine land excluding Alsace-Lorraine shall be charged to the German government.

Ten: An immediate repatriation without reciprocity, according to detailed conditions, which shall be fixed, of all allied and United States prisoners of war. The allied powers and the United States shall be able to dispose of these prisoners as they wish.

Eleven: Sick and wounded who cannot be removed from evacuated territory will be cared for by German personnel who will be left on the spot with the medical material required.

Twelve: Disposition relative to the eastern frontiers of Germany: Twelve: All German troops at present in any territory which before the war belonged to Russia, Rumania or Turkey, shall withdraw within the frontiers of Germany as they existed on Aug. 1, 1914.

Thirteen: Evacuation by German troops to begin at once and all German instructors, prisoners and civilian as well as military agents, now on the territory of Russia (as defined before 1914) to be recalled.

Fourteen: German troops to cease at once all requisitions and seizures and any other undertaking with a view to obtaining supplies intended for Germany in Rumania and Russia (as defined on Aug. 1, 1914).

Fifteen: Abandonment of the treaties of Bucharest and Brest-Litovsk and of the supplementary treaties.

Sixteen: The allies shall have free access to the territories evacuated by the Germans on their eastern frontier either through Danzig or by the Vistula in order to convey supplies to the populations of those territories or for any other purpose.

Seventeen: Unconditional capitulation of all German forces operating in East Africa within one month.

General clauses: Eighteen: Repatriation, without reciprocity, within a maximum period of one month, in accordance with detailed conditions hereafter to be fixed, of all civilians interned or deported who may be citizens of other allied or associated states than those mentioned in clause three, paragraph nineteen with the reservation that any future claims and demands of the allies and the United States of America remain unaffected.

Nineteen: The following financial conditions are required: Reparation for damage done. While such armistices last no public securities shall be removed by the enemy which can serve as a pledge to the allies for the recovery or repatriation for war losses. Immediate restoration of the cash deposit in the National Bank of Belgium, and in general immediate return of all documents, specie, stocks, shares, paper money together with plant for the issue thereof, touching public or private interests in the invaded countries.

Restitution of the Russian and Rumanian gold yielded to Germany or taken by that power. This gold to be delivered in trust to the allies until the signature of peace.

Naval conditions: Twenty: Immediate cessation of all hostilities at sea and definite information to be given as to the location and movements of all German ships. Notification to be given to neutrals that freedom of navigation in all territorial waters is given to the naval and merchant marine of the allied and associated powers, all questions of neutrality being waived.

Twenty-one: All naval and merchant marine prisoners of war of the allied and associated powers in German hands to be returned without reciprocity.

Twenty-two: Surrender to the allies and the United States of America of one hundred and sixty German submarines, including all submarines, with their complete armament and equipment in ports which will be specified by the allies and the United States of America.

Twenty-three: The following German surface warships which shall be designated by the allies and the United States of America, shall forthwith be completely disarmed and placed under the supervision of the allied powers and the United States of America.

Twenty-four: The allies and the United States of America shall have the right to sweep up all mine fields and obstructions laid by Germany outside German territorial waters and the positions of these up to be indicated.

Twenty-five: Freedom of access to and from the Baltic to be given to the naval and mercantile marine of the allied and associated powers. To secure this, the allies and the United States of America shall be empowered to occupy all German forts, fortifications, batteries and defense works of all kinds in all the entrances from the Cattagat into the Baltic, and to sweep up all mines and obstructions within and without German territorial waters, without any question of neutrality being raised, and the positions of all such mines and obstructions are to be indicated.

Twenty-six: The existing blockade conditions set up by the Allied and associated powers are to remain unchanged and all German merchant ships found at sea are to remain liable to capture.

Twenty-seven: All naval aircraft are to be concentrated and immobilized in German bases to be specified by the allies and the United States of America.

Twenty-eight: In evacuating the Belgian coasts and ports, Germany shall abandon all merchant ships, tugboats, lighters, cranes and all other harbor materials, all materials for inland navigation, all aircraft and all materials and stores, all arms and armaments, and all stores and apparatus of all kinds.

Twenty-nine: All Black sea ports are to be evacuated by Germany; all Russian war vessels of all descriptions seized by Germany in the Black sea are to be handed over to the allies and the United States of America; all neutral merchant vessels seized are to be released; all warlike and other materials of all kinds seized in these ports are to be returned and German materials as specified in clause 29 are to be abandoned.

Thirty: All merchant vessels in German hands belonging to the allied and associated powers are to be restored in ports to be specified by the allies and the United States of America without reciprocity.

Thirty-one: No destruction of ships or of materials to be permitted before evacuation, surrender or restoration.

Thirty-two: The German government will notify the neutral governments of the world, and particularly the governments of Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Holland, that all restrictions placed on the trading of their vessels with the allied and associated countries whether by the German government or private German interests, and whether in return for specific concessions such as the export of shipbuilding materials or not, are immediately cancelled.

Thirty-three: No transfers of German merchant shipping of any description to any neutral flag are to take place after signature of the armistice.

Thirty-four: The duration of the armistice to be 30 days, with option to extend. During this period, on failure of execution of any of the above clauses, the armistice may be denounced by one of the contracting parties on 48 hours' previous notice.

Thirty-five: This armistice to be accepted or refused by Germany within 72 hours of notification.

THIRTY-SIX: The existing blockade conditions set up by the Allied and associated powers are to remain unchanged and all German merchant ships found at sea are to remain liable to capture.

THIRTY-SEVEN: All naval aircraft are to be concentrated and immobilized in German bases to be specified by the allies and the United States of America.

THIRTY-EIGHT: In evacuating the Belgian coasts and ports, Germany shall abandon all merchant ships, tugboats, lighters, cranes and all other harbor materials, all materials for inland navigation, all aircraft and all materials and stores, all arms and armaments, and all stores and apparatus of all kinds.

THIRTY-NINE: All Black sea ports are to be evacuated by Germany; all Russian war vessels of all descriptions seized by Germany in the Black sea are to be handed over to the allies and the United States of America; all neutral merchant vessels seized are to be released; all warlike and other materials of all kinds seized in these ports are to be returned and German materials as specified in clause 29 are to be abandoned.

FOURTY: All merchant vessels in German hands belonging to the allied and associated powers are to be restored in ports to be specified by the allies and the United States of America without reciprocity.

FOURTY-ONE: No destruction of ships or of materials to be permitted before evacuation, surrender or restoration.

FOURTY-TWO: The German government will notify the neutral governments of the world, and particularly the governments of Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Holland, that all restrictions placed on the trading of their vessels with the allied and associated countries whether by the German government or private German interests, and whether in return for specific concessions such as the export of shipbuilding materials or not, are immediately cancelled.

over-powerful quiet replaced turmoil, death and destruction.

Almost coincident with the signing of the armistice by the desperate enemy, the city of Mons capitulated before relentless British pressure. On this hallowed ground the troops are now resting on their arms, happy in the thought of the illness of their final triumph. They had driven the enemy out by the same gateway through which Field Marshal Von Buelow and Field Marshal Von Kluck hurled their great armies against the valiant little force of "contemptibles" in 1914.

The population of Mons today paraded the streets, cheering madly their deliverers. Their loud cries must have reached the ears of the Germans outside the walls of the town.

Early this morning a crisp, graphic order to cease fire at 11 o'clock was distributed to all units, with a further order to maintain defensive precautions but to have no intercourse with the enemy.

MONS CAPITULATED AS

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN
BELGIUM, Monday, Nov. 11.—(By the Associated Press)—Peace descended like a mantle over the battle front at 11 o'clock this morning. The last big gun crashed its challenge and a great Indications that the new revenue bill will impose a number of sales taxes, the reporting of which will be a difficult task, makes it especially necessary to enlist the co-operation of tax payers themselves in the tax collection work.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The same spirit of enthusiasm and co-operation which attended the Fourth Liberty loan and much the same methods, including advertising in newspapers and local propaganda campaigns, are planned as features of the nation's next great financial task, the collection of about $3,000,000,000 in taxes next year.

Internal Revenue Commissioner Roper is making preparations for a great drive in January and February to get the ten million persons who probably will be subject directly to government taxes to file their returns early, accurately and willingly.

"Even with our great tax gathering machinery already built up in collection districts throughout the country," said Commissioner Roper, "we can not gather $3,000,000,000 of taxes without the hearty co-operation of the people, who pay it, must and will be their job as much as that of the government authorities."

On this principle, a great educational movement is being planned, without waiting for congress to enact finally the revenue bill which will determine just how much tax is to be collected, and from what sources it is to come. Business men in every community, banks, chambers of commerce, trade farmers' and labor organizations, churches, lodges, schools, and other organizations will be asked to undertake to show citizens precisely how to figure their taxes, what deductions from income are permissible, how their business records should be kept to provide the best guides for tax reports, and how to make intelligent returns, giving neither less nor more than is expected under the law.

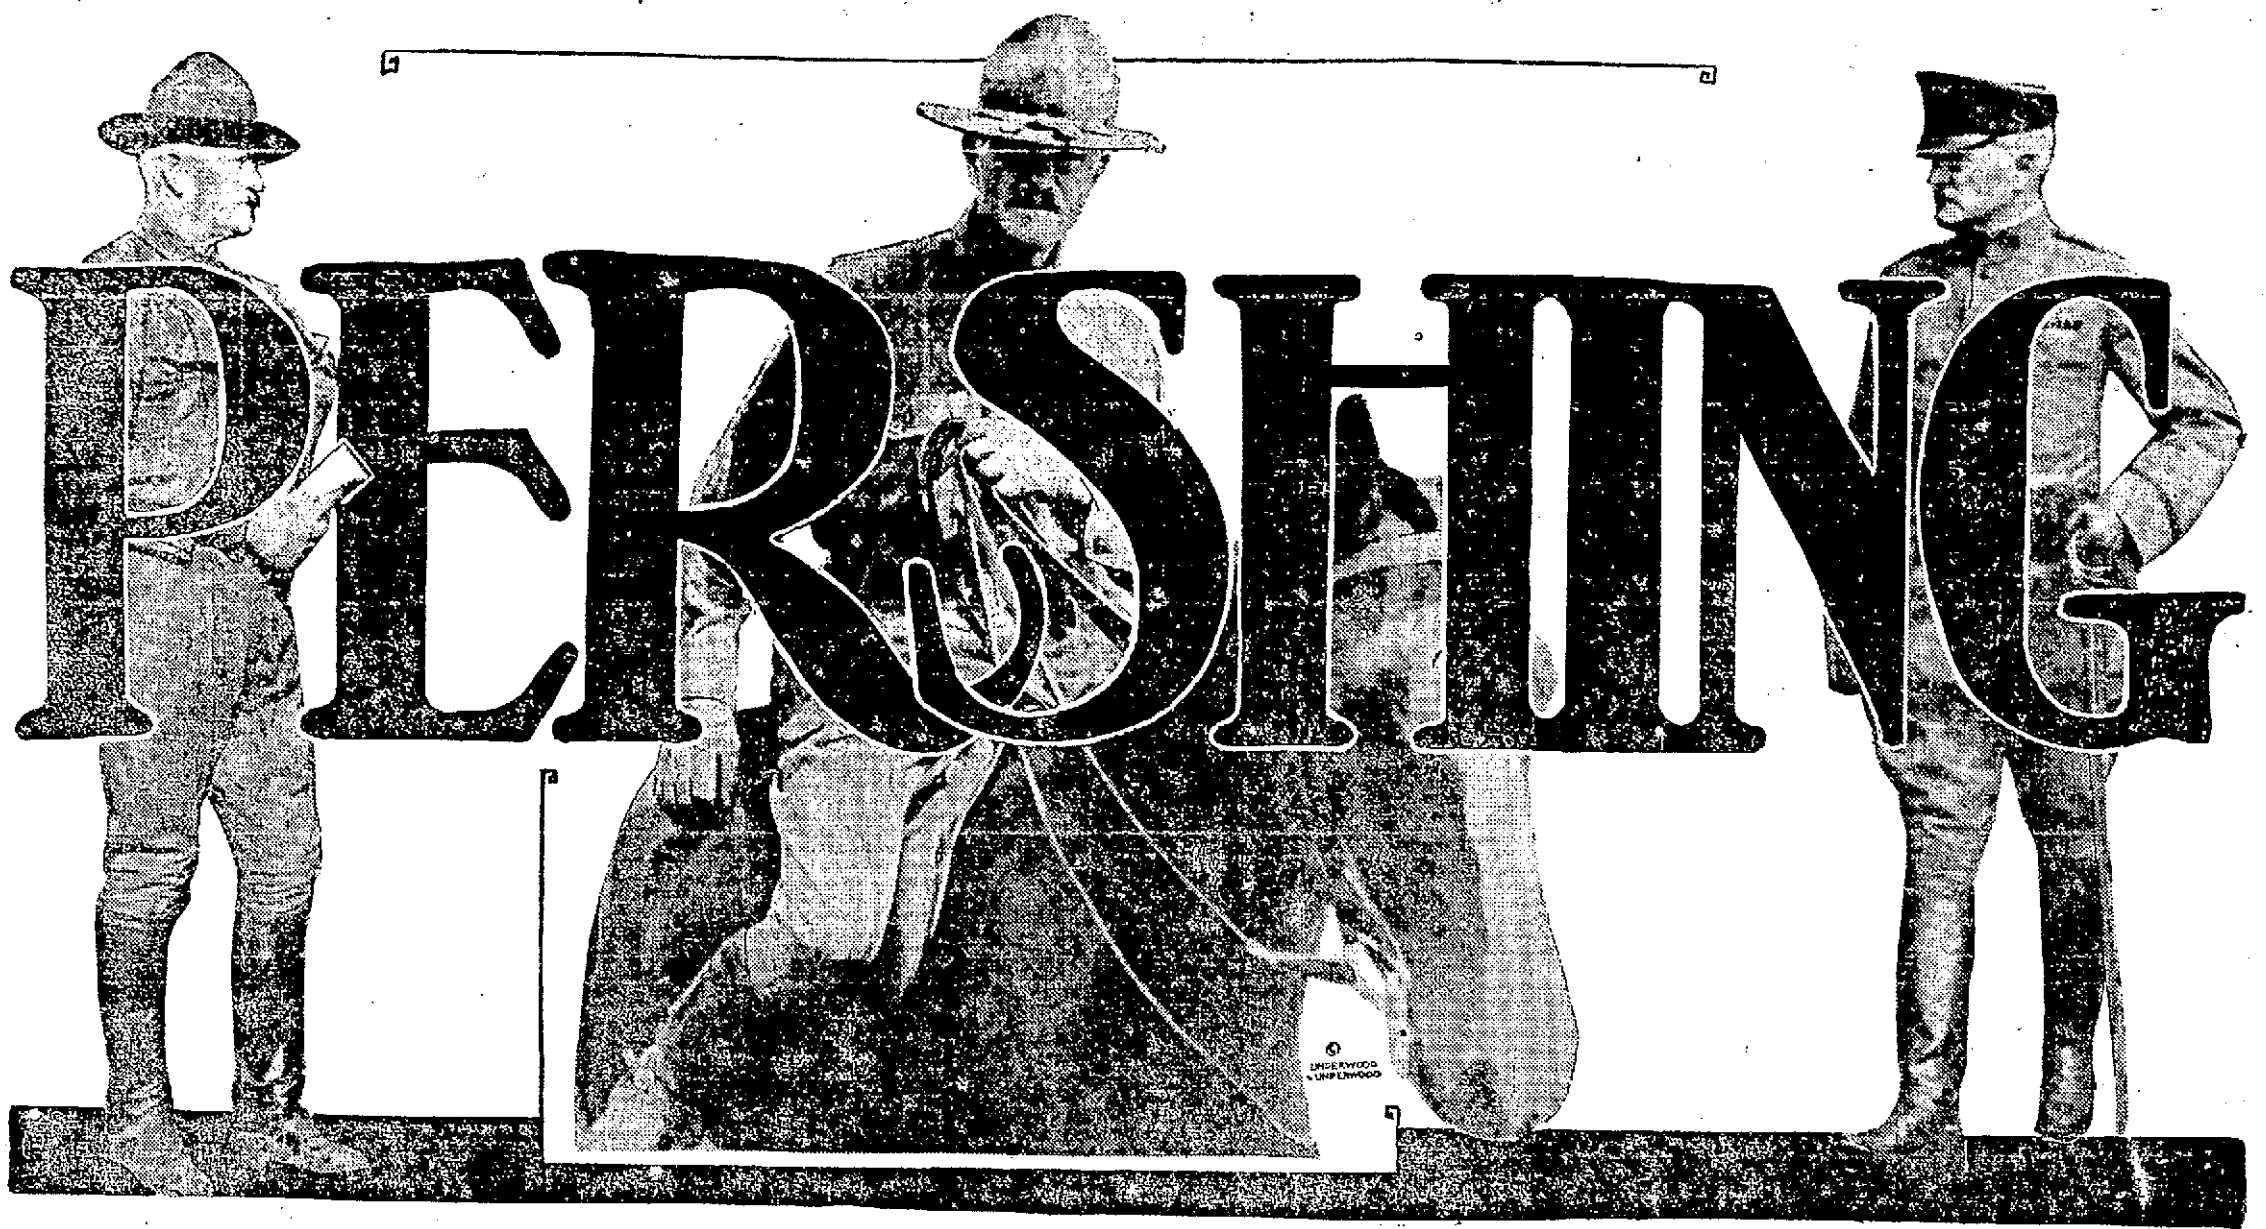

By such a system, officials hope to minimize tax evasions. But to guard against the inevitable slacking, information will be sought through these channels to be used in checking up returns and ascertaining beyond a doubt when returns are true.

From the moment that "Fighting Jack" Pershing, commander of the American forces, landed in France, the fate of the German hordes was sealed. The arrival of American troops saved Paris and saved the world from pan-Germanism. The gallant Yankees halted the German advance at the Marne, and enabled Marshal Foch to launch a counter offensive in July that turned the tide of battle and marked the beginning of the end of the greatest war in all history. From July until yesterday, the allied forces have been on the offensive, and the invaders have been fleeing for their border. The presence of over 2,000,000 brave American soldiers gave Foch the men to take the offensive and keep it, and enabled him to turn apparent defeat into glorious victory.

AMERICANS IN VERDUN PEACE CELEBRATION

VERDUN, Monday, Nov. 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—Verdun came into its own tonight. While the bells of the ancient cathedral were ringing the news of peace, the fortress city was illuminated and a military procession headed by the drum corps of the 26th American Division swung along the crowded streets accompanied by a detachment of French buglers representing the famed defenders of Verdun.

Only a few hours before the Germans had thrown large shells within the city walls, apparently as a reminder that Verdun was still within the range of their guns and the hills to the northeast.

Monday afternoon and night virtually was the first time that Verdun had not been shelled in that many hours almost since the war began.

N. E. Men in Parade

A large American flag was carried by the men of the New England division while the French buglers bore the tri-color of France. The soldiers were joined by a few civilians who had straggled back into Verdun since the German repulse on the north.

The procession wound its way through the streets lighted by flares and vari-colored signal lights sent off by infantrymen. The entire city was in a great blaze of glory and the illumination was visible for many miles around, even to the German line homeward in the east. Behind the buglers marched a shouting, singing and dancing column of French, American, Senegalese and Algerian soldiers and civilian celebrants, keeping time with the drum-beats and shouting: "The war is over! Vive La France! Vive L'Amerique!"

The marchers marched until they

YANKS TOOK STENAY ON LAST DAY OF WAR

WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES
ON THE MEUSE AND MOSELLE.
Monday, Nov. 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—The last French town to fall into American hands before the armistice went into effect, was Stenay. Patrols reported they had found it empty more than a quarter of an hour before 11 o'clock. American troops rushed through the town and in a few minutes allied flags were beginning to appear from the windows. As the church bell solemnly tolled the hour of 11, troops from the 90th division were pouring into the town.

Only a line of glowing camp fires marked the front tonight. Except for the rumble of thousands of trucks and other noises incident to the stirring of enormous armies, there is not a sound to indicate that two great forces are still facing each other. So far no violation of the armistice has been reported. There has not been an accidental burst of machine gunfire. Most of the 300 odd persons still remaining in Stenay were still in their cellars, fearfully awaiting the bombardment which they believed would surely come as the Americans entered. Many had yielded to German persuasion or force and had retreated with the enemy. Those few who dared first to venture into the streets, greeted the Americans with tears in their eyes and fairly deluged them with questions. The majority seemed too dazed to be able to understand that fighting had stopped. With trembling hands they offered coffee and bread to their deliverers.

gallied peace to create sympathy for the men who have run amuck for 50 months.

The world must be made safe not alone for democracy but for women and children.

This can be done in no other way than by vindicating the outraged and shamed majesty of the law.

Sir Frederick Edward Smith, attorney general of Britain, has announced that it is the fixed purpose of Britain to insist on the trial and punishment of the supercriminals of Germany.

For this purpose it is believed an international judicial tribunal will be instituted presently, perhaps to hold sessions in The Hague. Before this court the accused will be brought and accumulated evidence of their unspeakable deeds will be presented. Undoubtedly they will be given every opportunity to defend themselves if they can find anybody to present their pleas.

From the very beginning of German atrocities and submarine piracy, Britain, Belgium and France have kept a list of the German leaders responsible for the horrors which have stained every day and night of the war period. They have collected and arranged the evidence against each accused man from Kaiser Wilhelm downward.

Tancred Martel, noted French writer, is presenting in France the demand for an international court of justice and trial of the malefactors of Germany. Martel names 573 Germans, Bulgarians and Turks of rank, against whom charges pending range from murder to sacrilege and from theft to arson.

Martel's list includes the name of former German Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg, author of the "serap of paper" doctrine as applied to sacred international treaty obligations.

Some of the Criminals
William Hohenzollern will be charged with supreme responsibility for bringing on the war without provocation and with sanctioning all and ordering many atrocities, among them the murder of prisoners of war and wounded men on battlefields.

Frederick William, son of William Hohenzollern, is accused of wholesale looting of homes in France, sanctioning enslavement and violation of women and other crimes.

Eitel Friedrich, his brother, is charged with robberies and ordering atrocious crimes.

Admirals Von Tirpitz and Von Capelle are charged with authorship of submarine piracy, destruction of unarmed ships at sea, and murder.

Rupprecht of Bavaria ordered massacres of civilians in Russian Poland and deportations in Lillie and other Belgian cities.

Duke of Mecklenburg is accused of robberies in St. Quentin and Noyon.

General Von Hindenburg ordered poisoning of Russian prisoners and pillage and arson in France.

General Von Mackensen ordered the Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap to make, but it really has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and seals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, whooping cough or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

murder of 1000 innocent children, 10 to 17 years old, in Rumania.

Generals Von Graevenitz, Von Roodiski, Fleck, Schubert, Von Bulow, Von Bernhardt, Von Boehm, Klaus, Von Mantuffel Von Dreight, Stenger and Major Bulow are charged with ordering atrocities.

The authors of the orgy of Lille, the massacre of Louvain, the destruction of Aerschot, the murders of Edith Cavell and Captain Fryatt, of the attacks on hospital ships, red cross ambulances and field hospitals are all known and listed. Not yet will their names be made public, lest some of them escape before they can be apprehended.

Of course the constitution of the international trial court has already been given consideration. The names of the internationally-known jurists who will likely be called to sit on this most notable court ever assembled may not be announced with certainty. But it is regarded as highly probable that representatives of the high courts of the allied nations will be chosen.

The United States may be represented by some one of the justices of the United States supreme court. If it is thought advisable to go outside that body some jurist of the standing of William Howard Taft or Elihu Root will undoubtedly be chosen. In view of the vital and intricate legal questions bound to arise no non-judicial civilian could acceptably or properly serve on such a court.

The Kaiser, crown prince and other high criminals have sought to escape justice by taking refuge in Holland. However, if it has not been already done, the allies will soon notify the little neutrals of Europe that they will at their own peril give asylum to the Hohenzollerns and the lesser criminals.

SEND CHRISTMAS GIFTS TO THE SOLDIER BOYS

BOSTON, Nov. 12.—From one of those mysterious sources which baffles tracing, a rumor got into circulation yesterday that now the war is over the boys will be back before Christmas and therefore it will not be necessary to send soldiers Christmas gifts to France.

This is denied by James Jackson, New England manager of the American Red Cross, who said last night:

"If anyone intends sending a Christmas gift to a soldier boy in France, let nothing that has happened in the past few days change his plan.

"Nobody knows when our soldier boys are coming back home. This all depends upon so many circumstances as to make even a guess unwise. The arrangement now is that these gifts must be in the hands of the Red Cross for approval by Nov. 20. Packages must not weigh more than three pounds."

Many Nationalities Represented In Lowell's Great Victory Parade--15,000 in Line

Most Brilliant, Inspiring and Well Managed Parades in City's History--Clubs, Lodges and Societies Represented--Representatives of Belgian Colony Get Great Reception--Col. Charles S. Proctor of State Guard, Chief Marshal--Many Women Marchers

The single feature of the big Victory day parade in Lowell this afternoon participated in by 15,000 men, women and children marchers, that evoked the most applause along the line of march was a scanty little company of people representing the little nation that has suffered more than any other in the great war--representatives of Lowell's colony of Belgians.

There were probably not more than 40 of them all told and they arrived in Cabot street too late to go to the place assigned them in the parade, resting on the North common, but when a newspaperman assured them that any of the divisions would gladly give them a place and make way for them, they were comforted and assured. When the parade started they fell in behind the Y.W.C.A. contingent, the men, the women, little children, the picture of their beloved King Albert tucked to a pole, the Belgian in the motorcycle with his wife and baby, and all.

And Lowell gave them the best reception of all for it was the army of their country that kept the Hun away from America.

Lowell, having recovered from a strenuous celebration yesterday and having had time to collect amazed senses, today produced one of the most brilliant, inspiring and well managed patriotic parades in the history of the city.

The arrangements for assigning different organizations were placed in the hands of members of the state guards. They appeared early at the North common and quietly and systematically got the parade lined up

COL. CHARLES S. PROCTOR,
Chief Marshal

so that it moved off down Merrimack street very nearly on time. It was a typical Lowell parade with everyone good natured and each organization turning out a good membership. Practically every club, lodge and society in the city as well as organizations representing almost all the nationalities, turned out to help Lowell celebrate America's share in the great victory over the beast of Berlin.

The parade today was in great contrast to the hastily gotten up "pageants" of yesterday. For today bands had been hired and everyone was out in his best bib and tucker to begin with and the insignia of his organization to cap the climax.

The chief marshal of the parade was Col. Charles S. Proctor of the state guard, while the chief of staff was Lieut. Robert F. Marden, Priv. A. D. Milliken acted as adjutant and the aides were Major Joseph A. Loggare, ex-Mayor James E. O'Donnell, John H. Murphy, Dr. A. J. Gagnon, Arthur T. Safford and Cyren Desmarais, a soldier from "over there."

The parade was headed by a platoon of police commanded by Supt. Edmund Welch. Then came the chief marshal and his staff, followed by the United States Cartridge Co.'s band and the three companies of the state guard commanded by Acting Major Albert Bergeron, his adjutant being A. S. Goldman. Following the state guard were the Spanish War Veterans in their full regalia, commanded by Commander James P. Crowley. A feature of the S.W.V. was the mammoth flag they carried.

The A. G. Cadets' Drum and Pife corps came next, followed by the Cadets.

LOWELL SOLDIER CITED FOR GALLANTRY

"I have read with much pleasure the reports of your excellent commander and brigade commander regarding your gallant conduct and devotion to duty in the field on July 15, 1918, while establishing communication under enemy fire at Vaux in the second battle of the Marne and have ordered your name and deed to be entered in the record of the Yankee division."

No less a personage than Maj. Gen. C. R. Edwards, commanding officer of the 26th Division, A.E.F., signed the above citation and it was addressed to a Lowell boy, Private William J. Hey of the 101st Headquarters Company.

With the dawn of peace the receipt of such citations here at home brings with it an unusually enjoyable flavor and Mr. and Mrs. William Hey of 26 Mill street, proud parents of the heroic

PRIVATE WILLIAM J. HEY

Lowell soldier, are today celebrating Victory day in a spirit of extraordinary joy and happiness. For their son had been among those gallants who offered their lives that Nov. 11, 1918, might be speeded and fraught with the greatest developments of all history.

Private Hey enlisted June 4, 1917, in Co. C of the old sixth regiment, went through the usual course of preliminary training with this unit and in September, 1917, was transferred to the 101st Headquarters Company and sent overseas. He has taken part in many of the series of battles which culminated yesterday in the signing of the armistice and his letters from the war zone have been unusually interesting.

His many friends will learn with great pleasure of his gallant conduct in bringing about yesterday's great victory.

Germany Stripped of all Her Power and Facing Starvation Appeals to Wilson for Aid

Defeated and Deserted and Subjected to Terms of Unconditional Surrender, German People Beg for Help--Reds Order Fleet to Resist Allies--Holland Plans to Intern Ex-Kaiser--Allied Warships Enter Dardanelles

(By the Associated Press.)

Defeated on the battlefield, deserted by their emperor and subjected to terms tantamount to unconditional surrender, the German people have made an appeal to President Wilson. Conditions described as "fearful" prevail, and Dr. W. S. Solf, the foreign secretary, says in his appeal that millions face starvation if the allies do not take steps to overcome the danger.

Mutinous Sailors in Control

Mutinous sailors who are in control of most of the units of Germany's navy may, even at this late date, risk battle against the allied fleets rather than surrender their vessels under the terms of the armistice. Wireless messages to the various units have been picked up, calling upon the sailors to "defend the country against this unheard of presumption." The messages directed that the units assemble in Rosenthal harbor, on the east coast of the island of Rugen, off the Prussian coast.

To Intern Ex-Kaiser

Holland is said to be preparing to intern William Hohenzollern and his son, former crown prince, as well as other military officers who sought refuge there. This action may prevent the former emperor from returning to Germany, should events take a sudden turn, and from following the example of Napoleon in 1815.

Allied Warships Enter Dardanelles Allied warships have entered the Dardanelles and British naval forces have occupied Alexandretta.

The "Beast of Berlin" and Other Hun Criminals Must Face Trial for Their Crimes

Precedent Established if Civilization Condone Acts of Hun Criminals--German Princes and Generals Must Answer for Atrocities in International Court

LONDON, Nov. 12.--The murder and rape gang of Germany must face the noose.

Trial and fitting, just punishment of William Hohenzollern and all lesser authors and perpetrators of German frightfulness, murder, arson and submarine piracy is now under consideration by the victors in the world war.

To let these men escape trial would, competent legal authorities declare, legalize for all future wars all the forms of atrociousness of which the Germans have in this war been guilty.

To try and convict and properly punish the guilty is the only way to avoid establishing horrible precedents such as the violation of women, bombardment of unfortified cities and unarmed ships, hospitals and ambulances, enslavement of non-combatants, destruction of towns and the use of poison gases, man-traps in evacuated places and all the other hideous things for four years practiced and defended by Germany.

It is argued also that as this is a peace by defeat and surrender without amnesty conditions, the Potsdam gang has no loophole for escape.

Nor can the pacifists of the world intervene as they might have in a ne-

GERMAN EXILES

Great Mystery Still Being Made of Destination in Holland of Ex-Kaiser

Details of Inglorious Entry Into Holland of Former German Emperor

AMSTERDAM, Monday, Nov. 11.--A great mystery still is being made of the destination in Holland of William Hohenzollern, the former German emperor. Three different versions of the Benelux family now are mentioned as his temporary abode.

The former German emperor made an inglorious entry into Holland, according to reports from Eysden. At 7:30 o'clock Sunday morning, in travel-stained automobiles driven by Prussian officers were seen coming slowly through the fog along the Vrieslaar village highroad. The last Belgian village, Moutland, which is almost on the border line, was still asleep. The noise of the motors brought out a crowd of curious people.

The former ruler of Germany was dressed in the uniform of a general with an officer's cap and carried a sword. The erstwhile martial figure was huddled and bent on a waiting stick, while his eyes stared straight ahead.

The Dutch frontier guards stopped the cortege. After some brief formalities, the automobiles were conducted to the railway station at Eysden. Dutch cavalry and military cyclists formed a cordon about the refugees.

Crowds of Belgian refugees swarmed the station, crying: "A bas Guillaume l'Assassin!"

An imperial train arrived at the station an hour later. It consisted of fourteen cars and William Hohenzollern, who had walked up and down the railway platform, entered the train and changed to civilian clothes. Arrangements for the reception of Van Houtz, aide-de-camp to Queen Wilhelmina, who went to German headquarters last week.

Despatches dated Monday in Amsterdam reported that the former German emperor is to be interned and also quoted the Handelsblad as saying he was not wanted in Holland. Another despatch said that officials of the Dutch government and the German minister at The Hague had gone to Eysden to meet the German exiles.

BOASTS MADE BY EX-KAISER DURING WAR

LONDON, Nov. 12. (British wireless service).--Prominence is given by the British newspapers to some of the utterances made by former Emperor William while the war was in progress. In the year 1914, he said:

"Before the leaves fall from the trees, we shall be back again in the dear fatherland. Exterminate first the treacherous English and walk over Gen. French's contemptible little army. The warlike spirit still lives in the German people--that powerful spirit which attacks the enemy wherever it finds him regardless of the cost."

In the year 1915, the German ruler said:

"Our brave soldiers have shown themselves to be invincible in battle against nearly the whole world. The war drama is now coming to its close."

Regarding the United States, the emperor declared:

"America had better look after the war. I shall stand no nonsense from the Americans. My destructive sword has crushed the Russians. In a short while I will announce new victories."

"The war drama is now coming to a close. In a just cause I am ready to force myself to be cruel."

In 1916, the emperor said: "The world was prepared for anything but a victory of the German fleet over the British fleet. Fear will creep into the bones of the enemy."

FOOD WON'T DROP AT ONCE, SAYS HOOVER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Immediate dropping of food prices as a result of the conclusion of an armistice cannot be expected, Food Administrator Hoover declared last night in a statement, which added that, while the prices of some foodstuffs will decrease, others will increase.

"With the war effectively over," said Mr. Hoover, "we enter a new economic era, and its immediate effect on prices is difficult to anticipate. The prices of some food commodities may increase, but others will decrease, because with liberated shipping accumulated stocks in the southern hemisphere and the far east will be available. The demands upon the United States will change in character, but not in volume."

All activities of the food administration will be continued through the armistice period, said Mr. Hoover, adding that "there will be no relaxation of efforts to keep down profiteering to the last moment."

PARLIAMENT WILDLY GREETED CLEMENCEAU

PARIS, Nov. 12. (By A. P.)—Scenes of the wildest enthusiasm were enacted in the chamber of Deputies yesterday afternoon when Premier Clemenceau read the conditions of the German armistice.

The whole chamber rose to greet the premier, while the galleries, in which was a predominance of soldiers in uniform and women, cheered for several minutes.

Triumphant cheering greeted the announcement that Alsace-Lorraine would be occupied and the name of Marshal Foch, as the signer of the document, was lustily received.

Premier Clemenceau received the newspaper men this morning, addressing them as follows:

"This is a great pleasure to receive you. I thank you for the visit."

"The armistice was signed at 5 o'clock this morning. Germany accepting all the conditions with slight modification. We have to be very careful about the food problem in Germany. We cannot let the nation suffer famine. We must ensure, carry out, and at the same time keep our military superiority. We have seized all locomotives and other means of transport. France has done wonderfully through four long years."

President Poincaré received Marshal Foch today and congratulated him warmly on the signing of the armistice.

Marshal Foch was received by Premier Clemenceau at 10 o'clock this morning.

Official announcement of the armistice and the termination of hostilities at 11 o'clock this morning was given to the Paris press at 11:30. As soon as the official announcement was made all official buildings, embassies and legations in Paris were decked with flags and church bells were rung. Workers flocked

DRAFTEES AT DEPOT GET THEIR RELEASE

BOSTON, Nov. 12.—More than 3000 newly inducted American soldiers from points in Massachusetts were turned back to their homes from the South station yesterday morning, where they had gathered to entrain for Camp Lee, Va., as soon as the president's order calling off the draft was received here. Thousands of their friends, who had come to see them off, gave expression to their relief and pleasure at the big news.

Almost as soon as the news spread through the crowd newshyves were on the ground with their "Big Extras," and their supply was soon taken by the crowds. Army officers in charge of the various increments told the men to return to their homes and consider themselves as honorably discharged from the United States army after one day.

Two trainloads of draftees from Taunton, New Bedford, Canton and Mansfield, who had got under way before the news, reached these cities and towns, were halted at Providence and held there during the afternoon. The adjutant general's office wired Capt. Ballard, in charge of the contingent, to send the men back to their homes.

Shortly after the news spread abroad that the draft calls had been cancelled by the president, business houses all over Boston received phone calls from employees who had given up their civilian jobs to take one under Uncle Sam notifying them of the fact that they would be "back on the job" immediately.

The four trains which were scheduled to leave the South station at 1:15, 1:25, 2:05 and 2:15 for the south, were cancelled by the railroad officials, as soon as they received notice of the cancellation of the calls.

LONDON WILD WITH JOY

Frantically Cheer Lloyd George—Premier Says "Let's All Thank God"

LONDON, Nov. 12.—Waving flags and cheering, an enormous crowd pressed into Downing street before noon today, shouting, "Lloyd George! Lloyd George!" Finally the cheers brought the premier and Andrew Bonar Law, chancellor of the exchequer, to a second floor window of the premier's residence.

For five minutes the crowd cheered and waved flags frantically and then they sang "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." The premier stood passively and unsmiling, but his face was serene. When order and silence had been secured he spoke as follows:

"You are entitled to rejoice. The people of this country and of their allies and the people of our overseas dominions and of India have won a glorious victory. It was the sons and daughters of the people who have won it."

"It is the most wonderful victory for liberty in the history of the world. Let us thank God for it."

He bowed and disappeared. Chancellor Bonar Law, after kissing his hand to the crowd as he pulled down the window, moved away.

Singing Throngs in Streets

Hardly had the premier finished talking when a long line of shouting soldiers—British, Canadians, Australians, Americans and a few other allied countries—passed their way through the throng and managed to reach the front of the premier's house, where they gave him a great ovation.

When the house of commons met today Premier Lloyd George, after the opening prayer, moved that the house adjourn immediately. He proposed that the members proceed to St. Margaret's church on the western side of Westminster hall.

Bands and the pipes of the Scots Guards paraded through Whitehall, playing martial and patriotic airs. They were accompanied by singing crowds, who time and again sang the national anthem.

Take "Pape's Cold Compound" every two hours until you have taken three doses, then all gripe misery goes and your cold will be broken. It promptly opens your clogged-up nostrils and air passages of the head, along rusty discharge or nose running; relieves the headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffing. Breathe your throbbing head—nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only a few cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, and causes no inconvenience. Accept no substitute.

IS YOUR TROUBLE IN YOUR HEAD?

THE "DISEASES THAT KILL" OFTEN START AS TROUBLE IN THE HEAD OR THROAT

X-Ray drawing of the inside of the head and throat. These parts are usually first attacked by Catarrh. Catarrh causes colds and colds lead to many of the "DISEASES THAT KILL."

WHY IT IS RISKY

To Have Clogged Nostrils

The inside of the lower part of your head is hollow and holds the things you think with, hear with, taste with, smell with, talk with and act with.

If you think right, see right, hear right, smell right, taste right, talk right and act right, you will amount to something. The only difference between the employer and his hired help is the difference between the working of their thinking and acting machinery.

If your nostrils are clogged the air does not circulate through your head as it should and the result is your brain is not cooled. A hot brain will not work right. With such a brain you do not rest well at night, but get up tired and sleepy and stupid. You cannot collect your thoughts, cannot concentrate your mind on your work. The discomfort and misery of clogged nostrils is great. When your nostrils are stopped up you must keep your mouth open to get enough air. Breathing with the mouth open changes the expression of the face. Those with clogged nostrils soon develop a dull, stupid look in the face.

Catarrhal sufferers often have a feeling of heaviness or deep dull pain across the forehead and in the temples. This feeling is not only annoying but may be so severe as to prevent the proper acting of the brain.

In most cases of clogged nostrils there is considerable discharge of mucous material. This discharge may be watery and thin or it may be tough and sticky fast to the nostrils, or it may drip back into the throat and stick to the back of the throat.

In others with catarrh the discharge dries up in the nostrils and forms a crust in each side of the head. In others it causes dizzy spells. In still others it causes head noises, deafness or discharging ears.

NOSTRILS CLOGGED FOR YEARS

Mr. Charles Paquette, 784 Moody Street, Lowell, Mass., says:

"My nostrils had been clogged for 2 years. Most of the time I could not breathe through them at all. I suffered with terrible headaches. I had to sleep with my mouth wide open. I would awaken in the night gasping for breath. No one will ever know the misery and agony that I endured."

"I went to a well-known doctor and was examined. My condition was such that he said I would have to be operated upon. Finally having heard so much about Dr. Powell's wonderful results in the treatment of conditions like mine, I concluded to try him."

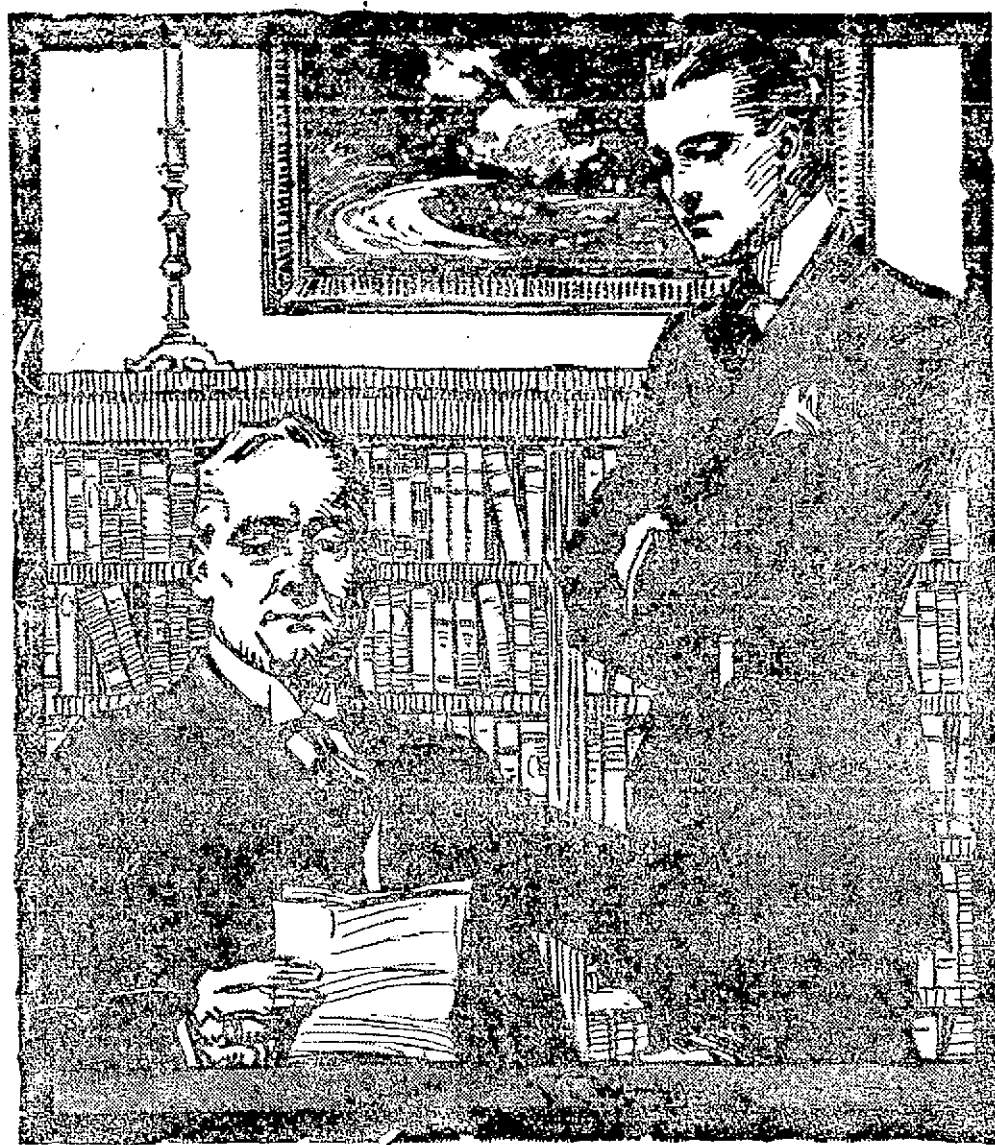

"Today I am a new man. I breathe freely, the sense of smell has returned, and life is again worth living. I cannot praise his treatment too much. It was a revelation to me."

8 Visits for $5

If you suffer with clogged nostrils discharging nostrils, are going deaf, or have head noises, or discharging ears, or have a bad throat or bad stomach, or gasp for breath and suffer from those other distressing symptoms of asthma, I will be pleased to have you call at my office. It will cost you nothing for an examination and if you begin treatment this month you will receive eight office treatments for $5.00. This includes all diseases of a catarrhal nature, whether the disease be in the eyes, ears, nose, throat, bronchial tubes or stomach.

Business Clothes That Mean Business

THERE'S a branch of service in this country that we call "business." It's filled with men who are serving at home. They don't wear olive drab but they wear good, lasting, business clothes that match up with the work they're doing.

These men insist on clothes that have good style so that they can keep in "trim"—they insist on clothes of good quality so that they can rely on them for long wear. These are the men that find the most satisfactory service in

Speaking from the balcony of Buckingham Palace, King George said:

"With you I rejoice. Thank God for the victories which the allied armies have won and have brought hostilities to an end. Peace is within sight."

At the admiralty there were calls for a speech from Sir Eric Geddes, ally, will remain in darkness for a short time.

An order was issued today that platforms were erected for the first Lord and the members of the board of admiralty. Sir Eric Geddes called for three cheers for Vice Admiral Duff.

At the Admiralty at the grand fleet, and for the British bluejackets, and these were given with great fervor.

A special service of prayer was held at St. Paul's in the afternoon, the Lord Mayor and sheriffs attending. Tonight London will be better lighted than at any time since the first air raid by the Germans. Coast towns, at the request of the admiralty, will remain in darkness for a short time.

screens might be removed from street and house lights, but owing to the coal shortage the number of lights must not be increased. Restrictions regarding the use of fireworks have been removed.

MASS OF THANKSGIVING

A special mass of thanksgiving in observance of the ending of the war was celebrated at St. Jean Baptiste church at 9 o'clock this morning and the service was largely attended. Yesterday afternoon a Te Deum was chanted and solemn benediction was held, the officiating clergymen being the pastor, Rev. Eugene Turcotte, O.M.I., Rev.

Armand Baron, O.M.I., and Rev. Augustine Graton, O.M.I. Appropriate hymns were sung during the service by the choir with L. N. Guibault at the organ.

DANIELS THANKS NAVY

Greetings and Congratulations Sent All Ships and Stations by Wireless

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Secretary Daniels yesterday sent by wireless this message to all naval stations and ships in home and foreign waters:

"The signing of the armistice makes this the greatest day for our country since the signing of the Declaration of Independence. For the world there has been no day so momentous for liberty. I send greetings and congratulations to all in the naval establishments at home and abroad. The test of war found the navy ready, fit, with every man on his toes. Every day all the men in the service have given fresh proof of devotion, loyalty and efficiency."

"In America and in all countries the people have applauded naval initiative and naval resourcefulness. As we rejoice in the victory for every principle that caused us to enter the war, let us be thankful that when the American people needed a navy we were ready with all facilities and were rapidly creating all others that could be employed."

"With warm appreciation for the perfect teamwork and splendid co-operation of the fleet."

"JOSEPHUS DANIELS."

ILLUMINATES LONDON FIRST TIME IN 4 YEARS

LONDON, Monday, Nov. 11.—Heavy rain was falling tonight but the celebration began this morning continued outside of Buckingham palace. The king and queen were seen in the balcony. Tens of thousands sang: "God Save the King." From time to time King George and the royal family appeared on the portico and bowed. Wild cheers greeted their appearance.

This was the first night in four years that London had been brightly illuminated. The government suspended the regulations calling for the early closing of theatres and restaurants. This suspension will continue during the week.

King George and Queen Mary rode through the city to the Mansion House this afternoon amid enormous cheering crowds. The lord mayor presented the king to the populace, but a speech was impossible. Afterward all the important generals and admirals were received at the palace.

Little work was done in London today. Employees of factories, shops and stores simply disappeared.

WESTFORD'S CELEBRATION
Like every other city and hamlet throughout the country, the town of Westford celebrated yesterday in good old Yankee style. Bells rang, flags waved, business was practically suspended, and the town, in company with its two smaller neighbors, Forge Village and Granitoville, set out to make the day an event to look back upon with joy and pride.

A parade was quickly formed when the news came through that the "Beast of Berlin" and his crowd had been forced to accede to the allies' terms, and the people from the three communities assembled, after they had marched and sang to their heart's content, on the common at Westford Centre. The Drum and Fife Corps of Forge Village furnished excellent music, and several speeches were made. Capt. Sherman A. Fletcher of the Westford public safety committee presiding.

Although yesterday was only the first day of the United War Work campaign, Westford went over the top with a bang, $7252 being reported up to last night. The quota for the town had been set at $5000 but, as in the past, Westford folks are not satisfied with merely making their appointed quota in anything which is in the interest of the boys "over there," with the above result.

FREE FOR THIS VISIT
To all who call at the NEW AMERICAN HOTEL, Wednesday, Nov. 13, I will give Consultations, Diagnosis of Disease, and examinations, Absolutely Free of Charge.

Never before has such an opportunity been given the sick of this vicinity, and if you are suffering, you should not fail to take advantage of it. Those wishing to see him should remember the Days, Dates and Office Hours of his visits and call early to avoid the crowded last hours.

For nearly 15 years I have been studying the Chemistry of Food and Chemistry of the human body. I have put these two sciences together and formulated the science of Applied Food Chemistry. By the application of this knowledge I cure all forms of stomach and intestinal diseases, and all other disorders that result from wrong eating and drinking. This method cannot fail because it conforms to the laws of Nature.

It is estimated that ninety-two per cent. of all diseases are caused by errors in eating. These errors are made by wrong selections, wrong combinations, and wrong proportions of food. I teach you how to correct these, how to select, how to combine and how to proportion your food according to your age and your occupation. This cures by removing causes. It gives Nature a chance. This is the true science of human nutrition, and it is governed by laws as inflexible as the laws of gravitation. If you obey them you cannot be sick. If you do not obey them you cannot be well.

You have no idea what your body is capable of, until you have it perfectly nourished. You have no idea what your mind is capable of, until it lives in a perfectly nourished body.

You have no idea of the joy of living until every bone, tissue, muscle and organ of the body is brought up to 100% efficiency, which my system does.

If you are sick or have any kind of stomach or intestinal trouble it will require a short term of curative feeding—then I balance the diet so as to give to the body all the elements of nourishment it requires according to your age and your occupation.

If medicine is needed in any case I prescribe only such remedies that do not conflict with the proper diet. I get results and this ends all argument.

Dr. NAUGHTON will positively be at the New American Hotel Wednesday, Nov. the 13th, from 10.00 o'clock in the morning until 7.00 o'clock in the evening to consult with and examine all cases personally.

News From Camp Devens
CELEBRATE PEACE AT DEVENS BY KEEPING AT WORK—KEEP ON TRAINING
CAMP DEVENS, Nov. 12.—Camp Devens is celebrating Victory day today by keeping right on with the training. Probably none of the lads in khaki here at present will be called upon to make the supreme sacrifice on the battlefield, but the 12th Division won't stop getting ready.

As early as 3 o'clock yesterday morning telephone messages to the effect that hostilities had ceased began to come into camp. Officers were routed out of bed by civilian friends in Boston and told the glad news. Then everybody woke up and discussions were in order, in some cases until reveille was sounded.

There was no demonstration among the officers. They are glad, of course, but still there is that very human feeling that after all these weary months of training they would like to have seen a little of the big show. But not for one moment would they have the order of things changed. A world free from the wholesale blood-letting of the past four years is too sweet a prospect to influence any personal desires.

Camp Full of Visitors
It seemed that many of the men, especially in the Plymouth Division, didn't find out the whole glorious truth until after dinner time. All morning long, sharply through the sparkling autumn air, came the cracking of rifles from the rifle range. And when the men returned to camp before mess and saw the gaily colored automobiles and the hundreds of visitors that seemed to have sprung from nowhere, they did not appear to be visibly affected.

In the Depot Brigade the story was different. Impromptu parades, the men shouting, singing, blowing bugles and generally making a racket were to be seen in the lower end of the camp. Every automobile, filled with laughing, singing, cheering visitors—and there were many of them—was greeted by long and hearty cheers from the men. Several automobiles went tearing through camp with cowbells tied to the axles, so that the bells sounded along behind the machine making a man's size racket.

Where all the visitors came from nobody seemed able to tell. People just took a day off and came to visit the boys at Camp Devens and tell them that it won't be long now.

12th Division Will Carry On
But won't it be long? This is a question that no one here seems to be able to answer.

Maj. Gen. McCuin, when interviewed, said: "This is the time for cool heads. Until we receive orders to the contrary we shall continue to train just as hard as though the Boche was still to be met. No one can tell what will develop on the other side. No man can say what conditions will have to be met and dealt with in the enemy's territory. The simple signing of an armistice, while hostilities have ceased and will probably not be resumed, does not affect the 12th Division in the least. We shall carry on. There must be no letting up until orders to do so are received."

"I have great confidence in this division. It is the best any man could desire to command. I know that these men of mine are going to see this thing in the proper light and that they will continue to prepare, prepare, prepare until the last crisis has been passed. Just as they would have fought, fought, fought until the last victory was won. That is the spirit that permeates the 12th Division. We shall carry on!"

Private Elected Senator
But if there was a minimum of celebration during the day, those who could crowd into the K. of C. buildings last night more than made up for it. In the main building there was a movie show and general jollification. In the 2 there was an out and out victory celebration in which the general advice regarding conduct was to make all the noise possible. In Unit 3 the 73th Infantry held a banquet, during which the signing of the armistice was said to have been mentioned occasionally.

What the fate of the 12th Division will be of course a question high in the minds of everybody, especially those who have boys in that outfit. It is a question that at present nobody but the war department can answer. The division hopes it will go. It is getting ready and if it is called it will respond gladly, willingly. That is as far as anyone can go at present.

There is one buck private in camp who has double reason for being happy today. The war is won. That is one reason. Then, he received word that he has been elected to the senate of the state of Connecticut. He is Private Daniel J. Bailey of the 34th Machine Gun Battalion. His home is in New Haven. Whether he will be allowed to take his seat is a question that will be decided by the military authorities if he requests his discharge.

CHELMSFORD CELEBRATES
In compliance with Governor McCall's request, there were no sessions at the Chelmsford schools today, but the children gathered on the common at 8.50 this forenoon where a pleasant musical program was carried out and a general good time had by all.

Chelmsford has posted off its coat and gone at the task of raising its quota of $6000 in the United War Work campaign this week. Chelmsford people have never failed yet to give to their utmost to any cause which is dedicated to helping the boys "over there," and the town is expected to not only raise its quota, but to oversubscribe it as well in the present drive.

THREE YEARS AGO I WAS afflicted with tuberculosis of the lungs. I was finally sent to the State Tuberculosis Hospital at Rockville, Ind., where I remained three months, getting worse all the time, and I persuaded the doctors to let me go home. I was then reduced to 122 pounds, had fever all the time, and was very weak.

"As soon as I got home, I started taking Mils Emulsion, and commenced to improve at once. In a few months, I was back to 150 pounds and had completely regained my health. Since then I have been employed by Valentine & Co., meat packers, and am able to pass the strict medical examination necessary in this line of work, showing I am in perfect health."—Sam Randall, 521 So. 17th St., Terre Haute, Ind.

Hundreds of people just as badly afflicted as Mr. Randall was, tell this same story. Why not try it? If you are not satisfied with the benefit, it costs you nothing.

Mils Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Mils Emulsion is strongly recommended to run-down, nervous people, and it has produced amazing results in many cases of tuberculosis of the lungs. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day. It works like magic on coughs and colds.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. A truly wonderful medicine for weak, sickly children.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Mils Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions, and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Mils Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold and guaranteed by Fred Howard—Adv.

I was finally sent to the State Tuberculosis Hospital at Rockville, Ind., where I remained three months, getting worse all the time, and I persuaded the doctors to let me go home. I was then reduced to 122 pounds, had fever all the time, and was very weak.

"As soon as I got home, I started taking Mils Emulsion, and commenced to improve at once. In a few months, I was back to 150 pounds and had completely regained my health. Since then I have been employed by Valentine & Co., meat packers, and am able to pass the strict medical examination necessary in this line of work, showing I am in perfect health."—Sam Randall, 521 So. 17th St., Terre Haute, Ind.

Hundreds of people just as badly afflicted as Mr. Randall was, tell this same story. Why not try it? If you are not satisfied with the benefit, it costs you nothing.

Mils Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Mils Emulsion is strongly recommended to run-down, nervous people, and it has produced amazing results in many cases of tuberculosis of the lungs. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day. It works like magic on coughs and colds.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. A truly wonderful medicine for weak, sickly children.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Mils Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions, and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Mils Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold and guaranteed by Fred Howard—Adv.

CHELMSFORD CELEBRATES
In compliance with Governor McCall's request, there were no sessions at the Chelmsford schools today, but the children gathered on the common at 8.50 this forenoon where a pleasant musical program was carried out and a general good time had by all.

Chelmsford has posted off its coat and gone at the task of raising its quota of $6000 in the United War Work campaign this week. Chelmsford people have never failed yet to give to their utmost to any cause which is dedicated to helping the boys "over there," and the town is expected to not only raise its quota, but to oversubscribe it as well in the present drive.

SAVE YOUR HAIR AND BEAUTIFY IT WITH "DANDERINE"

Spend a few cents! Dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

Try this! Hair gets beautiful, wavy and thick in few moments.

If you care for heavy hair, that gleams with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter for a few cents; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now?

FIGHTING BREAKS OUT AGAIN IN BERLIN

AMSTERDAM, Monday, Nov. 11.—Fighting broke out once more in Berlin on Sunday afternoon, according to a message received here. It centered about Schloss square and was going on at the time the despatch was sent. German socialists and independent socialists have reached an agreement to form a joint cabinet from both parties, according to a Wolff bureau announcement. This cabinet, it is said, consists of Philipp Scheidemann, vice president of the reichstag; Herr Landsburg, member of the reichstag and Herr Gerbert, socialist, and Hugo Haase, Richard Barth, editor of the Vorwarts, and William Dittman, member of the reichstag, independents.

The new regime seems to have secured ample support from the press. In addition to the Wolff bureau, the socialists are now represented by three newspapers, the Vorwarts, the Lokal Anzeiger, formerly the emperor's favorite newspaper and now rechristened the "Red Flag" and the former semi-official organ, the North German Gazette, which has taken the new title of "The International."

The revolutionary movement is continually spreading. Koenigsberg, Frankfurt-On-Main and Strassburg are now controlled by the soviets. It is officially reported that there are no disorders.

A soldier's council has been formed at the front and will submit its demands to Field Marshal von Hindenburg tomorrow, according to another Wolff bureau despatch.

ALLIED SOLDIERS ARE NOTIFIED OF TERMS

WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES IN FRANCE, Monday, Nov. 11 (By the Associated Press).—Orders announcing that the armistice between the allied powers and Germany had been signed, and giving directions as to the future conduct of allied soldiers along the line were sent to every corps this morning. They were transmitted to the units in the front ranks. The orders follow:

"1. You are informed that hostilities will cease along the whole front at 11 o'clock a. m. Nov. 11, 1918, Paris time.

"2. No allied troops will pass the line reached by them at that hour in date until further orders.

"3. Division commanders will immediately sketch the location of their front line. This sketch will be returned to headquarters by the courier bearing these orders.

"4. All communication with the enemy, both before and after the termination of hostilities, is absolutely forbidden. In case of violation of this order, severest disciplinary measures will be immediately taken. Any officer of sending will be sent to headquarters under guard.

"5. Every emphasis will be laid on the fact that the arrangement is an armistice only, and not a peace.

"6. There must not be the slightest relaxation of vigilance. Troops must be prepared at any moment for further operations.

"7. Special steps will be taken by all commanders to insure strictest discipline and that all troops be held in readiness fully prepared for any eventuality.

"8. Division and brigade commanders will personally communicate these orders to all organizations."

EXPECT NEW MARK IN FOREIGN TRADE

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Every probability that the foreign trade of the United States will make a new high record during 1918 is shown in a compilation by the National City bank, which estimates the trade, based upon the figures to date, as follows: Total imports, $3,100,000,000, and the exports $2,200,000,000. This $9,300,000,000, approximate total, compares with $9,155,000,000 in 1917, the former high record. The aggregate excess of exports over imports for the 1-12 years of war will exceed $11,000,000,000, or more than that of the 40 years preceding the war.

The imports from Europe for the year will approximate only $350,000,000 against $550,000,000 in 1917 and $900,000,000 in 1912. Even exports to Europe will show a slight decline compared with last year, approximating $3,000,000,000 against $3,054,000,000 in 1917. The estimate does not include the large unrecorded exports to Europe upon government vessels, which are not required to report to custom houses.

Lack of vessels to trade with South America and Africa materially reduced the trade with those continents and may bring their total for the full year slightly below that of 1917. From present indications, however, it seems probable that the imports from South America will approximate $600,000,000, practically the same as last year, and that the exports may total $325,000,000 against $312,000,000.

The imports from all our neighbors of this continent and the West Indies seem likely to total about $1,000,000,000, against $872,000,000 in 1917, and the exports to all America approximately $1,300,000,000 against $1,265,000,000 in 1917.

Be Prepared for Grippe-Influenza

Advices Calling a Physician, But Take Precautions While Waiting

If you ever suspect that you have influenza get in touch with your doctor and do what you can for yourself before he arrives.

Take something for your bowels at once and be sure and rub Mustarine on your throat and chest. This treatment wards off inflammation, which often results in pneumonia and is used by many of our ablest physicians.

Mustarine is better than any mustard plaster. It will not blister and it has proven of great value in any throat, chest colds, bronchitis, tonsillitis and pleurisy. Just rub it on, that's all.

RINGS SAME BELL AS AT LEE'S SURRENDER

BOSTON, Nov. 12.—Fifty-three years ago, on April 9 last, Charles F. White, of 230 Warren st., Brookline, then a lad of 9 years, went with his schoolmates and tolled the bell on the First Parish church, near the corner of Walnut and Warren streets, Brookline, in celebration of Lee's surrender at Appomattox.

Yesterday morning at 6:15 Mr. White ran over to the church from his home and tolled the same old bell in honor of the great allied triumphs overseas. He sounded the old bell quickly as he could, got the janitor to open the church and in a jiffy he was tugging at the bell rope.

In April, 1865, Mr. White was a pupil of Susan Hale, sister of Edward Everett Hale, in a little school on Dudley street, near the church. She received word of Lee's surrender, closed the school for the day and took the children over to the church to ring the bell.

Other buildings have been erected on the site of the old church, but the one now standing is still called First Parish. The bell, however, is that which hung in the belfry half a century ago.

RULES ON DRAFT U. S. PROGRAM ALTERED BY TRUCE

Boards Ordered to Stop Classifying Men Under 19 or Over 36 Years

Registrants of 18 and From 37 to 46 Need Not Fill Out Questionnaires

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Draft boards were ordered today to stop classifying men under 19 or over 36 years and to withhold questionnaires for such registrants not already sent out.

HUN LEADERS NOTIFIED OF END OF WAR

LONDON, Nov. 11, (British Wireless Service).—The following message was sent by wireless by the German plenipotentiaries:

"To the German high command, to be communicated to all authorities interested:

"Radio received. Armistice was signed at 5 o'clock in the morning. French time. It comes into force at 11 o'clock in the morning, French time. Delay for evacuation prolonged by 24 hours for the left bank of the Rhine besides the five days; therefore, 31 days in all. Modifications of the text with that brought by Heildorf will be transmitted by radio.

"(Signed) Erzberger."

The text of the above dispatch contains an evident inaccuracy as to the time allowed Germany for evacuating the left bank of the Rhine, but the figures are printed as contained in the wireless report.

Some of the changes in the government's program, as a result of the armistice, in tabloid form are:

Draft calls cancelled.

Conveying of shipping to European ports to cease.

Work stopped on new naval explosive plant in Wisconsin.

Production 30,000,000 naval nitrate plant at Indian Head, Md., abandoned.

Slight relaxation of restrictions on non-war building expected immediately.

Abandonment of all censorship on news likely soon.

Officers' training camps to be stopped, where men have not begun course.

Big air program to be modified gradually.

Purely war work contracts to be lopped off.

Men of Naval Reserve to be released on request as quickly as possible.

Naval estimates to be based on 500,000 personnel, instead of 700,000.

Overtime and Sunday work in shipyards abolished.

Activities Continued

Classification of registrants under selective service, aged 19 to 37 and of 18-year-old youths.

$1,500,000,000 monthly expenses of government to continue this winter; Allies to get further funds; another war loan planned for spring; advances to peace industries likely.

Government operation of telephone and telegraph communications to continue for at least a year.

Activities of War Industries board, War Trade board, and food and fuel administrations to continue indefinitely.

Government agencies to carry on task of feeding liberated peoples of Europe.

Effort of "wartime" national prohibition by congress to continue.

Naval building program to be carried through.

Interned German subjects to remain in confinement.

At a birthday dinner in Bath, the hostess served a lemon pie made from a lemon which she had grown on her own lemon tree.

APPEALS FOR UNITED WAR WORK FUND

BOSTON, Nov. 12.—Charles F. Weed, chairman of the committee in charge of the United War Work campaign in this state appealed today to the people of Massachusetts and New England, not to forget their obligations to the American soldiers during their celebration of the coming of peace.

Contributions reported from various Massachusetts chapters today totaled $70,748 as compared with a million and a half reported yesterday the committee announced while the Boston metropolitan district reported but $100,000. Returns from Maine showed a state total of $312,000 out of a quota of over $500,000. Other states in New England thus far have reported no definite figures.

NO MORE STUDENTS FOR TRAINING CAMPS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Orders went out today to the heads of all military departments to discontinue at once the acceptance of applications for admission to the central officers' training camps. No decision has been reached regarding the classes now in progress at these camps, but it was intimated here that the students would be permitted to complete the course.

MANSLEIGHER CHARGE

GREENFIELD, Nov. 12.—Reginald A. Judson of Keene, N. H., was held on a charge of manslaughter in court here today as the result of an accident in Northfield late yesterday in which Oliver Melrose of Keene was almost instantly killed and Benjamin Descoeaux was injured when the automobile driven by Judson collided with a telegraph pole.

W. H. BARTER DEAD

MELROSE, Nov. 12.—William H. Barter of Winthrop, a member of Governor McCall's military staff, died at a hospital here today of injuries sustained in a collision between an automobile and a trolley car. Three other members of the party are at the hospital but physicians said their condition was not critical. Hugh A. Quinn, of Boston, who was operating the machine was arrested, charged with reckless driving.

DIES WATCHING PARADE

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 12.—Rev. Martin L. Williston, a retired Congregationalist minister who had held pastorates in Massachusetts and elsewhere, died while watching a street parade last night. He was 75 years of age, a graduate of Amherst, and leaves a widow and three children.

A hotel at Portland, Or., short of bell-boys, now has two Chinese girls in native costume answering calls and paging guests.

Dr. True's Elixir is a vegetable medicine that puts the system in good condition, prevents and relieves constipation, stimulates the appetite and improves the digestive power. It can do no harm. It is purely vegetable. Ask your druggist for it, or write Dr. J. F. TRUE & CO., Auburn, Me. 40c, 60c, $1.00.

UNITED STATES NAVY NOT TO RELAX VIGILANCE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Until German submarines and other war craft designated in the armistice terms had been surrendered and the remainder of the enemy's naval forces disarmed, Secretary Daniels said today, the American navy would in no way relax its vigilance. Instructions to this effect, following those given by General Pershing to the army in France, are assumed to be already in the hands of the commanders of all ships.

UNION SERVICE AT ST. ANNE'S CHURCH

The Lowell Federation of Churches held a Thanksgiving service this morning at 11 o'clock at St. Anne's Episcopal church. The large auditorium was well filled and all the Protestant churches in the city were represented. The congregation sang and was assisted by the large church choir.

When the last notes of the hymns ceased their tunes which pealed forth sweet and clear on the morning air, and the long stream of people had been seated, the service of prayer and praise for the victory which has come to this country, began with the singing of the Song of the Allies.

Prayer was offered by Rev. James Bancroft of St. John's Episcopal church.

Rev. William F. English, Jr., of the Kirk Street Congregational church then read from Deut. 28: "And it shall come to pass that thou shalt hearken unto the voice of the Lord thy God. The Lord thy God shall sit thee on high. All these blessings shall come upon thee if thou shalt hearken unto the voice of the Lord thy God."

The "Star Spangled Banner" was sung in fervent spirit. A short Scripture lesson was then read by Rev. Asa Reed Ditts, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church, and was followed by the singing of "Mine Eyes Have Seen the Coming of the Glory of the Lord."

Rev. Appleton Grannis then spoke a few words of welcome to the ministers of the various churches, as well as to the visitors from other congregations. He emphasized the fact that in the days to come a united Christianity is needed. "This is a holy war," he said, "in which we have been engaged; a war for the preservation of liberty, a war for the triumph of right. Had we not these convictions this war would never have been brought to a successful conclusion."

HOW TO FIGHT SPANISH INFLUENZA

Avoid crowds, coughs and colds, but fear neither germs nor Germans! Keep the system in good order, take plenty of exercise in the fresh air and practice cleanliness. Remember a clean mouth, a clean skin, and clean bowels are a protecting armor against disease. To keep the liver and bowels regular and to carry away the poisons within, it is best to take a vegetable pill every other day, made up of May-apple, aloes, jalap, and sugar-coated, to be had at most drug stores. Known as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. If there is a sudden onset of what appears like a head cold, one should go to bed, wrap warm, take a hot mustard foot-bath and drink copiously of hot lemonade. If pain develops in head or back, ask the druggist for Anuric (anti-uric) tablets. These will flush the bladder and kidneys and carry off poisonous matter. To control the pains and aches take one Anuric tablet every two hours, with frequent drinks of lemonade. The pneumonia appears in a most treacherous way, when the influenza victim is apparently recovering and anxious to leave his bed. In recovering from a bad attack of influenza or pneumonia the system should be built up with a herbal tonic, such as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, made without alcohol from the roots and barks of American forest trees, or his "Frontier" (from tonic) tablets, which can be obtained at most drug stores, or send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. for trial package. "Frontier" is just as good as Dr. Pierce's other medicines.—Adv.

Peace and Thanksgiving

Peace is comel

"The Captains and the Kings depart."

Through all the world runs a deep hymn of joy and thanksgiving. Albert, the true-hearted, riding proudly at the head of his little army of unconquerable Belgians, will see again his beloved Brussels.

France, the superb, may tarry now to note the reverent homage poured at her steadfast feet.

England may call to her home ports her mighty fleet behind whose bulwark Liberty has sheltered.

Italy may turn again to the gracious things of life, her bitter hour of travail ended.

And the "lesser peoples," who through all the four years of agony and unspeakable heartache have done their share eagerly and well, may look into the future unafraid.

To America, humbly and patiently learning the grim rules of war from her elder brothers, peace means relief beyond words and thanksgiving beyond telling in a thousand thousand homes.

No nation ever stood behind its lads in battle with the passion of service America has given. But that service is not done, nor will be done until they come again to our shores as clean in body and mind as they are now.

It is particularly happy that the seven great agencies which have taken the friendliness of home to our soldiers should be asking the American people for $250,000,000 as peace comes.

Who is there of us who out of the greatness of his thanksgiving will not give and give and give---now, when with the stress of strife at an end, the days of idleness tempt our lads; now, when they feel the goal won, they let slip their own iron discipline of themselves; now, when they turn their eyes to home and descend into the black swamp of homesickness.

Now, more than ever, we need this great sum to keep up their high ideals. And it is only the deepest wisdom, for to these returning hosts we shall hand in but a few years the destiny of our beloved land.

New England gave the world its greatest ideals of liberty and freedom. Let it keep the faith by doing its share in this work, yes, many-fold more than its share.

MURDER IN LAWRENCE

Local Police Are Asked to Be on the Lookout for a Negro Murderer

Mike Kaskawski of 33 Salem street, Lawrence, was murdered last evening in a delicatessen store in the downtown city by a colored man and shortly after the murder the Lowell police were asked to be on the lookout for the murderer, who was believed to have boarded an electric car for this city. The name of the murderer is not known, but his description is as follows: Height, 5 feet 8 inches; weight, 150 pounds; age, 30 years. He wore a light gray overcoat and a gray soft hat and is smooth shaven. According to information received in this city, Kaskawski had his throat slashed and died before reaching a hospital.

LAST NIGHT'S SCENES IN LOWELL STREETS

Lowell in its downtown section last night looked like a big city, so large were the crowds and so late did they remain on the streets. There was constant excitement and something doing all evening clear up to midnight.

It was apparent that many strangers had come in here from surrounding towns to share in our observance of Victory day and it seemed as if there were hundreds of New Hampshire automobiles seen on the street, not all of them stopping here. It is true, as many of them were evidently bound for Boston to see the big town celebrate its head off.

There was but one parade during the evening, that of the telephone workers who appeared in city hall square about 7 o'clock and were headed by the Lowell Cadet band. It was a well arranged parade and several hundred phone girls, executives, mechanics and electricians were in line and there was much enthusiasm.

As had been the case during the day, there were several auto trucks dashing around the streets carrying loads of enthusiastically shouting men, women and children. At least five or six dance halls did a good business last night and hundreds of people who were pretty well leg-weary from having marched so long yesterday in the middle of the day, nevertheless did not consider they were too tired to remain standing in the lobbies of the moving picture houses waiting for a chance to squeeze inside the jammed auditoriums.

Merrimack street is usually a very clean looking street, but last night it looked almost as if the junkmen had been holding a traders' convention for old discarded tin pans and wash tubs were strewn up and down the entire length of the street. The sidewalks and streets were of course well littered with torn up pieces of paper. Street department men and cars appeared about midnight and cleaned up the street, although the sidewalks had to remain as they were and probably will remain until the stores open up Wednesday morning and the merchants sweep off the sidewalks.

walk in front of their places of business. About 8 o'clock last night a group of boys who live at the Y.M.C.A. dormitory and who are accustomed to conduct themselves there as if they imagined they were in college, came out on the steps of the Y.M.C.A. building with a cornetist and announced they were going to hold a "sing" of their own. A crowd quickly gathered and felt that possibly something good was going to be heard.

It turned out that these boys, self-elected leaders of the "sing" did not know the whole of any one of the war or patriotic songs. As their windup, having by this time betaken themselves to the balcony, they started to sing The Star Spangled Banner. The first verse went all right. It so happened that it started just as a soldier and a sailor came out from the front entrance and were starting down the steps. When the sailor boys up on the balcony abandoned their attempt at singing the anthem after they had staggered through the first verse, the soldier and sailor who had stood stiffly at attention, showed by their faces they were pretty well disgusted with the efforts of young patriots who did not know the whole of the national anthem.

The crowd on the streets last night was a well behaved crowd and the wisdom of having the saloons closed down, was manifested by the fact that there was an appreciated absence of rowdism and intoxicated men and women seen on the streets.

Everyone was evidently out to have a good time on this Victory night and recognized that to make it an entire success, one must be good natured, tolerant and friendly to his neighbor.

WARNING TO THE PUBLIC

Surest Way to Prevent Tuberculosis as Result of Influenza Summarized

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Fearing a rapid rise in the death rate from tuberculosis, as a result of the influenza epidemic, the National Tuberculosis association has issued a special statement warning the public of the danger. Experience in previous epidemics has clearly indicated, the association points out, that the death rate from tuberculosis may be expected to be increased by at least ten per cent. within the next two years as a result of the present epidemic, unless proper precautions are taken. Influenza, it is stated, greatly reduces one's physical vitality, and lowers one's resistance to disease. This opens the way for tuberculosis.

The surest ways to prevent tuberculosis as a result of influenza are summarized by the association as follows:

1. Stop working and go to bed immediately. Do not resume work until the attack of influenza is all gone.
2. Have nothing to do with patent medicines or drug stores "treatment." Put yourself under a doctor's care at once, and continue under his care until cured.
3. Have your doctor examine you thoroughly to see if any signs of tuberculosis are present. You cannot tell without an expert examination.
4. If free from any trace of tuberculosis, keep so by sufficient rest during convalescence, and careful living then and afterwards.
5. If your "cold" hangs on, or there are other indications of tuberculosis, begin medical treatment without a moment's delay.

POLICE COURT NEWS

A very brief session of the police court was held this morning with Judge Burright as the presiding justice and the following cases were disposed of: Joseph Waterhouse, the man who was arrested by two soldiers at the corner of Central and Merrimack streets yesterday, after it is claimed, he had made unpatriotic remarks, was charged with drunkenness. In order that his alleged disloyalty to the flag be investigated, his case was continued until Saturday, his bail was fixed at $300. John J. Clark, charged with assault and battery, entered a plea of not guilty and his case was continued until Thursday morning. Arthur Levesque, for larceny, had his case continued until tomorrow morning. Joseph Boisjoly was found guilty of assault and battery and was fined $25. Thomas Jerek for having a gun in his possession, was taxed $50. The case of John Hooley and Anthony Clements for drunkenness, were continued until Thursday morning.

PATRIOTIC PROGRAM AT BAPTIST MEETING

A patriotic program was carried out at the meeting of the Lowell Baptist union, held in the Fifth Street Baptist church last evening. This marked the opening night, and accordingly the election of officers was in order. A chicken pie supper was served at 7 o'clock by the ladies of the church, with about 120 guests in attendance.

During the business session the annual report of the secretary was read by Rev. Henry A. Cornell, followed by the treasurer's report read by Wilbur E. Symonds, showing satisfactory financial progress for the past year. The following officers were elected for the coming year:

President, Rev. George B. Marston; vice president, George R. Myers, Chapman O. Leubetter; secretary, Rev. Henry A. Cornell; treasurer, Wilbur E. Symonds; auditors, George H. Taylor, Richard Gumb, James O. Phinney.

Membership committee, Richard Gumb, chairman; First church, Warren F. Sanborn; Worthen Street church, Chapman O. Leubetter; Fifth Street church, Roscoe B. Thomas; Emmanuel Street church, Rev. Henry A. Cornell; Hadley Street church, Rev. Guy C. McQuidde; Paige Street church, Walter A. Chase; Chelmsford Street church, Percy H. Colburn; French church, Rev. Ferdinand A. Perron; Chelmsford Centre, Fred F. Wiggin; North Middlebury, Rev. Charles J. Armstrong; North Tewksbury, Albert J. Trull.

Social committee, Rev. Albert C. Warner, chairman; George F. Wagner, Louis Browning, P. H. Colburn. Missionary committee, Rev. Walter E. Woodbury, chairman; Rev. Asa Reed Dilts, William T. Sheppard, Esq., William F. Hills, Rev. George B. Marston, George R. Myers.

Business committee, William T. Sheppard, Esq., chairman; George R. Myers, William F. Hills, George H. Taylor, Burton H. Wiggin.

After the business session a service of patriotic songs was held in the auditorium, among the selections being "The Star Spangled Banner," "God Save the King," and the "Marseillaise." A troop of Boy Scouts of the Fifth Street church gave the Salute to the Flag, and Bertram Neild sang two solos. Before introducing Rev. O. Brouillette of Salem, the president, Rev. A. R. Dilts, recited a portion of Kipling's "Recessional." Mr. Brouillette spoke interestingly of his personal experiences and observations during a year of service as a Y.M.C.A. worker in France.

A duet, "The Battle Hymn," was sung by E. Jule and Bertram Neild and the meeting was dismissed with the benediction by Rev. A. R. Dilts.

THIS MIGHT BE TERMED A UNION PARADE

Organizations of as widely divergent interests as the Boy Scouts, Y.M.C.A. and Machinists union all joined together in having a parade yesterday afternoon—a parade all their very own, that was pronounced by the curbstone committees to have been a corker.

The Boy Scouts and Y.W.C.A. started from the corner of Shattuck and Merrimack streets about 2:15, and when they passed machinists' headquarters and machinists were already formed in line to parade, felt like parading in company with some other good paraders, so gallantly stepped in and loaned added dignity to that represented by the Boy Scouts and the Y.W.C.A. members. This parade covered the, by now, official parade route, and received a good reception all along its route.

STATIONARY FIREMEN

A regular meeting of the members of the Stationary Firemen's union will be held this evening at 32 Middle street and it is expected that a report from the national organization in Omaha, relative to the question of wages for the stationary firemen employed in the local mills will be received. It seems that the stationary firemen employed in the local mills have been dissatisfied with their wages for some time and their efforts to settle the grievances have been fruitless. The matter was finally referred to the national body.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

D. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

There is an unusually well varied bill at D. F. Keith's theatre this week. The various attractions are strictly in accord with the jubilant feeling of the city in general. Capacity houses were in attendance yesterday afternoon for the first time in the theatre since the opening of the season. The programme for the week is as follows:

Leading the bill are Francis X. Bush and Dorothy Kane, comedians and comedy offering. Both are very funny but Bush is giving the most brilliant display his laugh-producing abilities and he makes the most of it.

When the act opens a man and a woman, the latter an especially good-looking one, come on the stage and immediately get into an intensive conversation which continues in the lady's hall of the theatre in a tone of voice and displaying a perfect masculine conversation. They then break forth in a long monologue and the latter a good hand for his work. Yates reappears, a rapid-fire gamut of dialogue is gone through and then the two sing together. It is an enjoyable offering.

"Yates" is a musical comedy offering and starts from the fact that it brings forth a few scenic novelties, there is nothing to lift it beyond the average. The comedy, however, is a blonde with twinkling eyes and real dancing ability. Lily Lamond is a plump little person with a good deal of who since rather well. Betty Stone, as the porter in the hotel where the action of the piece takes place, gives forth a lot of good nature and a little while Edward H. Crawford as an English lord is sufficient. A half dozen girls round out the company's personnel.

You'll remember "Flaming the Paragon" the minute the curtain opens. It is the farce where the hero and his helper go through diverse manipulations and eventually blow the hero and the piece follows in the air. The hero's name is "Alfred" and he is for short and he never himself goes by the name of "Alfredness." The piece is in the hands of an apartment where the temperature is 25 degrees below zero and the only relief in sight, the furnace, refusing to perform its function. The piece is called in and one of them is finally by descent and married by choice. It is a good deal of fun, the piece is better made than the act a new amusement one. Before the "Paragon" has been here before, but it's one of those things that improve with age. Mac Eleanor Ball, who played at Keith's in Boston last week, and who has already established a strong reputation among Lowell audiences, returns to Keith's this week in her violin recital and is assisted this year by her brother, Joseph Ball, an expert cellist.

Uncle Sam became our biggest customer during the War. We gave him all he asked for. We sent overseas 155,945,000 sticks of Adams Gum.

The men in the front line trenches craved it—they couldn't smoke. To the men in the hospitals it was a blessing. The men in the artillery used it to rest their nerves. The men in the Tank Corps fought on it. And to the boys in the air, gum was a great steadier.

Lil Kerslake and his prize combine to form one of the best animal acts seen here for some time. "The Farmhouse Troubles," Kerslake entitles the act, and with half a dozen grunting animals he keeps the audience in giggles. The act seems to do it in a most successful manner.

George W. Scott and Dorothy Kane confess that they are Mr. and Mrs. Scott and that they have been married 15 years. They put across a lot of new comedy matter and their offering is presented at top-notch speed.

"The Human Top" is Arthur Taft's new act, and his act is a pretty good one. Party Abuckley, Mabel Norwood and Al St. John are featured in the week's Keystone comedy and how the three comedians seem to date as usual and shows some of last week's hoax victory celebrations.

Seats for the remaining performance of the week may be obtained in advance at the box office. Phone 25.

is certainly being treated to a well-arranged variety of dramas at the Opera House this season, and each play is so staged and the parts so carefully and systematically taken that it is a real pleasure to witness each production, whether it be comedy or one of the plays of the melodrama type. The efforts of the Emerson players this week are bent on the successful presentation of an unusual play, full of thrills and mystery, almost until the final curtain.

"Cheating Cheaters," a crook drama in four acts from the pen of Max March, tells the story of a gang of crooks who set out to rob a supposedly wealthy family with whom they have become acquainted. In the meantime their "friends" are also planning to annex some of the first-mentioned family's valuables. And then, as reported by many very good stage actors of old days used to say, "the plot thickens." In other words, the girl who was the leading spirit of family No. 1, fell in love with the man who was the brains of family No. 2, and after that complications came thick and fast. How the "families" decided to return to the straight and narrow path, and how the man and the girl found the road to "Home Sweet Home" is all told in this clever little play, in which times comedy and tragedy stalk through the night hand in hand.

portrayed his or her part just the way the producer intended it to be given. As Nan Carey, the girl of mystery, Miss Jane Salisbury adds another triumph to her already long list of successes. The part in the story contains the manner, replete with consideration and cleverness that has characterized her work ever since coming to Lowell. Julian Noy, as Edward Palmer, a soldier and cricketer, had ready to throw in everything for the girl he loves, handles his part with his usual skill and Joseph Cushman, as Antoni Verdi, who teaches music and blows open safes with equal skill, is an excellent opportunity to display his exceptional talent and needless to say, he takes advantage of the chance and plays the part in a manner that appeals to all. Others who are helping in "putting across" this thoroughly enjoyable play are: Mr. Arthur Buchanan, Mr. George Bryant, Conner, Miss Louise, Miss Huntington, Mr. Kerwin Wilkinson, Miss Elizabeth Ferris, Miss Abigail, Miss Mr. Frank Harris, Mr. Martin Miskell, Mr. George Davis and last but not least, the popular and efficient director, Mr. Augustus J. Glassman.

THE STRAND THEATRE

Standing room was at a premium at last night's performance at the Strand theatre and the 2,000 or more spectators thoroughly enjoyed the program, which was well in harmony with the great excitement that has been the observance of the closing of the war. The program included the presentation of "The Russian Girl," a brilliant present-day war play. Just Sylvia, a rich comedy drama, as well as a series of war pictures "over there" that are both interesting and instructive. As a climax to the bill "The Star Spangled Banner" was played on the organ, the words of the hymn were sung by the choir and the band.

A feature of the program is "The Russian Girl," one of the most powerful propaganda plays ever shown on a local screen. The play reflects in great style the events of the war up to the present day, particularly the entrance of America in the great conflict, and the leading figures include President Wilson, General Pershing, as well as the "Germans" and the "Germans" war lords. The play is interesting throughout and must be seen to be fully appreciated.

A delightful comedy-drama by the World Picture is "Just Sylvia," which is full of good humor. The story is a modern one and concerns the immigration from a western city to New York of a family who have just recently become rich through the finding of oil on their farm. Injected in the story is a little love affair, which has a pleasing climax. The Allied War pictures show the tanks at work "over there" in the great war for democracy, with interesting scenes of the French and Italian armies are also shown on the screen. The Vitaphone comedy is very pleasing, with bits of the Mutual Screen Telegram are both instructive and interesting. Octavia, the week's soloist, entertains as a pianist, and Miss Dugan's are up to the standard.

POLO SEASON OPENS HERE TONIGHT

The first roller polo game of the season will be played at the Crescent rink on Ford street tonight, when the Lowell and Boston teams will hop into the cage at 8.15 o'clock. Many features will be carried out, and Mayor Thompson has been invited to spot the first ball. All soldiers and sailors are invited to attend as guests of the management.

This popular indoor sport got away to a good start Saturday night, when opening games were played in three of the cities to crowded houses.

The closeness of the several contests indicates that the teams are well balanced, and President Moore predicts one of the closest pennant races in the history of the game.

The teams that will clash here tonight are bound to prove season rivals. The nucleus of the Boston team comes from last year's Lawrence team, with Frank Hardy, who led the downriver aggregation last season at the helm. Blount of Hardy's team of a year ago will be in the lineup. Kid Williams, who played a great game for Lowell last season, will also be against us.

But Lowell will have a smart team. Any club that has two such men as Harkins and Griffith in the lineup is bound to be heard from. Both are in great shape, and can be depended upon making all opponents go lively in the race for the flag.

Mulligan, the speedy rush who was with Worcester last year, will be in the front line with Harkins. "Smiling Jimmie" Purcell, who tumbled goal in an exceptionally clever manner in the night for the pennant a year ago, will be on the job again. Our other man is Asquith, a very good halfback.

The game will start at 8.15 o'clock.

LOWELL DEFEATED BY BOSTON IN FAST GAME

BOSTON, Nov. 12.—The American Roller Polo league had a pretty tough night in which to open its season. The arena rink in Boston, so far as attracting a big crowd was concerned, was very good, and President Fred H. Moore said he was satisfied, all things considered.

The Boston team made a good start in its opening home game, winning from the champion Lowell, after an uphill fight.

At the beginning of the third period, Lowell was in the lead, 4 to 3, but in five minutes Williams, on a clever shot from the side of the rink, scored the tying goal, and 50 seconds later Alexander hooked one into the net which dissolved the tie.

Boston played on the defensive after that, but Williams shot another goal for good measure a few minutes before the game ended.

Alexander, Williams and Hardy played a strong game for Boston, and Blount made several sensational stops. Harkins and Griffith did some excellent work for Lowell.

Providence won from Worcester last night by the score of 4 to 2.

BOXING CARNIVAL FOR WAR WORK FUND

A monster carnival, with the entire proceeds going to the United War Work fund, will be held at the Crescent A. A. on Thursday night. With the war over, the need of money to help our brave and gallant boys who went "over there" ready to give their very lives if need be in order to end the terrible slaughter, is very pressing, and hence the seven great organizations have united in a campaign to raise the necessary funds. The Lowell committee is working with all its might that the good old Spaulding City will send a message to our own boys that we are still behind them and ready to answer any call that may come in their behalf.

With this object in view Manager Moore of the local club announces a big carnival for this week's meeting. The participants will include Martin Flaherty, Johnny Boyle, Frank Molins, Fred Armstrong, George Brooks, Phiney Boyle and many others, and the program is one that is bound to be a hummer.

The assessments will be $1 and $1.50 and every cent that is taken in will go to the fund.

To save the prime crop in a California county, seriously damaged by heavy rainfalls at the picking season, 1000 soldiers from Camp Fremont were assigned to help the prune growers.

LEADERS IN CONGRESS APPROVE TERMS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Unanimous approval of the armistice terms imposed on Germany was voiced today by members of Congress.

Unconditional surrender was the interpretation of most senators and representatives, although some expressed disappointment that demobilization of the German armies was not required. Sentiment for punishment of those responsible for murders and other atrocities also was voiced.

President Wilson's suggestion in his address informing congress of the armistice terms that the victorious nations extend aid to the peoples of the central powers in their efforts for self-government and to prevent them from further suffering for want of food and other necessities of life was commended.

Vice President Marshall said: "The president's address sets a high water mark in the annals of justice of the English-speaking people and of all the allies. For the future justice must lead and not follow success."

Senator Simmons of North Carolina said: "The armistice terms are all that could be asked for."

Senator Saulsbury of Delaware said: "The president announced to us that what he has sought and what we have hoped for is accomplished. Poland is a nation again. Rumania, the south Slavs and the Finns will be at last free. The Holy Land is at last free. The crusade is accomplished."

Senator Swanson of Virginia: "The terms of the armistice are most satisfactory. From now on government will be responsible to the wishes of the people."

Senator Pomeroy of Ohio: "The terms of the armistice with Germany will prove universally acceptable. One thing, however, the allies, including the United States, must insist upon, that the officers and men guilty of the horrible cruelties which have shocked humanity shall be turned over to them for trial and punishment."

Senator Norris of Nebraska: "The armistice terms amount to an unconditional surrender."

Senator Curtis of Kansas: "I have heard the terms with great satisfaction and I am pleased that they are so binding."

Speaker Clark: "The armistice terms seem to be all-embracing and most certainly will be satisfactory to the American people."

Democratic leader Kitchin: "The terms are entirely satisfactory. They could not be better."

Representative Madden of Illinois: "The settlement is everything anyone could hope for."

Representative Campbell of Kansas: "The armistice embodies a complete surrender."

Representative O'Shaunnessy of Rhode Island: "Peace again visits the earth and a grateful people acknowledge our worthy president to be the masterful and dominant figure of the centuries."

Representative Good of Iowa: "By far, the terms are the most stringent ever imposed on a defeated country."

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, ranking republican on the foreign relations committee; Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, and other leaders of both the senate and congress were not in Washington today.

MUNICIPAL COUNCIL

The municipal council held a reception meeting in the mayor's reception room this morning and after holding a hearing on the petition of George M. Harrigan for a garage in Marlborough street adjourned until tomorrow morning at 10 a. m. The Harrigan petition was referred to Messrs. Brown and Warnock.

SECOND LIEUT. WILLIAM DELANEY HAS BEEN PROMOTED TO FIRST LIEUTENANT

Second Lieut. William B. Delaney of this city, who has been in France with the Engineers' corps since July, 1917, has been promoted to first lieutenant, according to information just received by the city.

Lieut. Delaney's promotion has been rapid since he arrived in France. When he went overseas he was top sergeant in a special corps and was among the first American troops to land overseas. In December of the same year he was promoted to second lieutenant and transferred from a special corps to the engineers. Lieut. Delaney gave up an excellent position with a Springfield firm to serve his country. He was educated in Lowell schools and is 27 years old.

CHURCH BELLS AND MILL WHISTLES ANNOUNCED PEACE TO NO. CHELMSFORD POLICE

Early yesterday morning the bell on the Congregational church at North Chelmsford, in company with the steady tooting of the mill whistles, announced the fact that Germany had quit. The news spread like wildfire, and it was not long before old and young were celebrating the glorious news. Young America held parade after parade throughout the day, and it seemed as if whenever a dozen youngsters got together they formed in line and swept down the street, on merry-making bent. Mills were closed, and practically all business was at a standstill. The enthusiasm of the young folks found its way into the hearts of the "grown-ups" before the day was far advanced, and in the course of the day everyone showed in some manner their joy at the good news.

FOCH AND HUN ENVOYS IN "LONG" SESSION

PARIS, Monday, Nov. 11.—The new German government it appears, considered the armistice conditions at a sitting late Sunday at Berlin. Having decided to accept them, it telephoned instructions from Berlin to Spa, German headquarters, authorizing the delegates to affix their signatures to the agreement.

The courier who was waiting at Spa left immediately for the lines and crossed them without incident north of Chimay. He reached the "chateau de Francfort" at about 2 o'clock in the morning and found the German plenipotentiaries waiting for him. They asked after they had read their instructions, to see Marshal Foch, who was in his special train on a switch near the chateau.

Marshal Foch, first lord of the British war, received them. A discussion which is described by the Temps correspondent as being "rather long" took place upon certain clauses, particularly that concerning the maintenance of the blockade. The German delegates signed the document at 5 o'clock.

Premier Clemenceau, receiving the couriers' report, said on the question of the blockade: "The German plenipotentiaries insisted, above all, upon the question of food. We will maintain it is well understood, the blockade during the term of the armistice. Nevertheless, as the situation in Germany and Austria is desperate, we will do everything possible to feed them in order to prevent them from starving. It is the question of transport which dominates all these problems."

WILD SCENES IN FRENCH CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES

PARIS, Monday, Nov. 11.—The chamber of deputies has seldom displayed such unanimity as it did today in cheering each article of the German armistice terms as it was read by Premier Clemenceau. As soon as he had read a clause, the entire chamber jumped to its feet and cheered. Generally the tumult was so great that the voice of the speaker was lost in the uproar. Only once or twice were there purposeful interruptions by the socialists.

After reading the conditions, the premier excused himself from making a lengthy address, but said: "In the name of the people of France and in the name of the government of France, let us salute Alsace-Lorraine!"

There was prolonged cheering, after which he added feelingly: "Let us honor the great army which died!"

Tears came to the eyes of most of those in the chamber—tears for the memory of the dead and tears for the powerful question of the moment. Deputies from Alsace-Lorraine who had been in France since 1914 and some of whom had fought with the French army were enthusiastically cheered as they presented themselves in the gallery.

The diplomatic gallery was filled, and among those present were American Ambassador, Sharn Alsace-Lorraine, the British ambassador, and the ambassadors of Spain and Italy. There was a full house of deputies and the only empty seats were those marked by the tri-color and crane which designated the sacrifice of a nation who had given his life in the service of his country.

While the session was in progress a battery of 75's maintained a steady cannonade in celebration of the victory from its position along the Seine.

A wrist watch and other presents were given to Mr. Angus from his mother. Mr. Brown and Mr. Barrie also were the recipients of wrist watches from former shopmates at the Appleton company. A social hour of singing was enjoyed. Mr. John Gilchrist rendered piano selections during the evening. Refreshments were served and after the Star Spangled Banner had been sung the party came to an end, all present having enjoyed a very pleasant evening.

STOLEN AUTO RECOVERED

A light Buick owned by Everett W. Penn, of 31 S. Main street, was stolen on Brookings street last night and was recovered this morning. In First street near the old car barn, a man believed that the thief, who was probably on his way to Lawrence, ran out of gasoline and would not take any chances purchasing it in this city and abandoned the car. The machine was not damaged.

NATIONAL

A pretty wedding took place at the Immaculate Conception parochial residence Sunday evening when Miss Mary Kelly and Mr. Alfred W. Whitely were united in marriage by Rev. Fr. Tighe, O.M.I. The bride was becomingly dressed in a long, broadcloth traveling suit trimmed with fur and hat to match, and carried a bouquet of roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Elizabeth Kelly, who was also becomingly dressed in brown with heavy trimmings, and carried a bouquet of roses. The best man was Mr. Philip Smith. The gift to the bride was an engagement ring, and that to the bride was a gold watch. After the ceremony a dinner was served at the home of the bride. The couple were the recipients of many beautiful gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Whitely left for New York on the evening of Monday, and will be in the city for a few days before they return to their home in Lawrence street.

ANIMALS IN THE WAR

Illustrated Lecture at Middlesex Women's Club Proved Very Interesting

"Four million five hundred thousand horses have been used in the war, near the battlefield, as well as tens of thousands of dogs, pigeons, donkeys and mules." This statement was made by Ernest Harold Baynes yesterday afternoon at the illustrated lecture given by the Middlesex Women's Club. That animals have served as patriotically as any soldier, in modern warfare, has been proven by their brave deeds and actions. The only sad feature is that they cannot understand the loving kind words which would be certain to follow after they had performed their tasks so faithfully.

The first series of pictures thrown on the screen dealt exclusively with the homing pigeons. A well equipped army pigeon coop with a trainer, care for them and teach them the first lessons, is situated some distance behind the lines. They are often carried in large baskets which the soldiers attach to their bicycles and carts when they leave for the front and when the moment arrives for a message to be sent back to headquarters these little birds make the trip back to their coop and their trainer until their note which has been secured to their leg in a small aluminum capsule.

The next animal mentioned which perhaps could not be pictured in one's mind as having played a part in this world's war, was the camel. They can travel for several days without much food, and no water whatsoever, and are used a great deal in carrying wounded. A large box affair more like a heavy straw or wicker basket, divided in two parts, is put on the camel's back and very often he carries two wounded men back from the battlefield to the rear, where they are cared for.

The oxen have been doing wonderful work at the Serbian front, and assist in carrying the light artillery howitzers it is necessary to build military roads, and this involves a great deal of work, and delay. A large canvas pack is placed upon the back of these animals and they can carry a number of large shells to the ammunition dumps in this manner.

A great deal is accomplished by the donkeys, owing to the fact that he is more hardy than the horse, requires less food, is very sure-footed and less nervous. They carry large wooden beams along the small narrow gauge railroads in Northern France and Belgium, which are needed at the front. They drag these heavy loads over stony, shell-torn country, in order that railroads and shacks may be constructed. In the dangerous sections, where there is perhaps heavy firing going on, the donkey may be lifted into the trench and placed out of harm's way.

England has had 1,500,000 horses in service. The British and French have all during the war, employed very efficient veterinary surgeons. The concentration camps in Southern England, although in the first stages of the war, not as fine as they might have been, now reach the very top notch in modern equipment, and the stables are practically all in perfect condition. Many mules are also found in these places, as they are, like the donkey, sure-footed and less nervous than the horse. However, a mule is a mule, and seems to possess absolutely no reasoning power whatever, and although he is a good hard worker when once he gets started, the soldiers have to puzzle hard and search their vocabularies for fond words.

There are three and four squadrons of horses at these camps, where there are to be found heavy and light draft horses and cavalry horses. When messengers are sent from the battlefield for more horses, they are carefully selected, placed for general inspection and one last glance by the doctors. The transports leave at night, loaded with horses and arrive at the coast of France, where there are five remount stations, the following morning. The ships are accompanied by an airplane overhead and destroyers on either side. All lights are out, and the pawing and neighing of the frightened horses lend a certain weirdness to the dark night.

The government of France drafted horses from time to time, and a very interesting picture was shown when the farmers and peasants all gathered in the market place, a man there, equipped with their old nag. The best specimens were selected, requisitioned by the government, and some owners went home financially recompensed, but without the companionship of their horse, or horses. Wonderfully built horses were used by the French Coast Patrol as well as by the Cavalry Lances. The United States recently purchased new ambulances for the use of the American Red Star, the Blue Star and the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, in caring for wounded horses, defraying the expense for this purpose, amounting to five and ten thousand dollars.

The British government can boast of the fact that they have sent 80 to 85 per cent of their horses, which have been wounded or worn out, back again to the front. This has been accomplished through the most careful medical care which has been given to every horse, at the various hospitals located in France. The horses go through the mud of Flanders and as it is said of the worst type and description, they take in the germ which is at such times that they are sent back to the hospitals for treatment, and fresh horses are brought up to take their places.

Dogs were used in Holland, Belgium and Switzerland during the war, and thus when their services were needed in dangerous sections and countries they were not found wanting in the least respect. The Red Cross would never be able to accomplish their great work of ministering to the wounded without the valuable assistance lent them by these dumb animals that are taught to search for the fallen soldiers, to distinguish between a dead and living man, and to bring the message back to the stretcher bearers.

Way to Peace

before which Germany as the chief criminal with Austria, Turkey and Bulgaria will stand as prisoners at the bar. When or where the final peace negotiations will be held officials will not conjecture. Thirty days are allowed under the armistice terms for assembling of the peace congress. The armistice, however, includes a provision for its extension. The great interests involved, the many governments and nationalities concerned and the difficulties to be met in convening such a conference in a short time may cause an extension of the 30 day limit. It is likely that the peace conference will be similar to the meeting at Versailles, where the armistice terms were formulated. The victors meeting separately, will probably decide upon terms and the defeated would be permitted to enter pleas for modification.

Cancellation of All Drafts

The military looked today to the breaking up and return to civilian life of the great army mobilized in the past 19 months. Further increase of the military forces was checked yesterday through cancellation of all outstanding draft calls. The return home of the nearly two and a quarter million men overseas and the mustering out of the million and a half troops in camps in this country will not come immediately. The United States, having entered the war last, probably will be called upon to do much of the police and guard duty in France and Belgium. Future events in Russia are uncertain and the small force there may have to be augmented. Transport facilities are more or less limited. Embarkation of additional units will not stop immediately, Secretary Baker has said, although the troops to be sent overseas largely will be medical and similar units.

Great Tasks Lie Ahead

For the navy also, great tasks lie ahead. The sea must be swept clear of mines. Occupation of the German naval base of Helgoland may be necessary as a result of the revolution in the German grand fleet. Until peace finally is concluded, there will be patrol work to do.

The newly constructed and rapidly increasing merchant marine must not only bring the men from France, but carry to France and Belgium devastated by the war, to lands of southern Europe, long unprepared, the means of food, clothing and shelter. The means of keeping alive the war-weakened populations. Food Administrator Hoover and Chairman Harley of the shipping board, soon will leave to survey the situation. The American people from their plenty will be called upon to feed Europe.

Money Will Be Needed

Money will be needed to bring the troops home from France and allow completion of the necessary projects under way. Another loan probably will have to be floated. The great revenue bill, placing upon the American people taxes amounting to more than six billion dollars, must be passed by congress. Industrially, the change from war to peace will create as many problems as the change from peace to war. War contract plants must be converted to make the commodities of new workers engaged in such plants must be assimilated into peace production. Wage standards changed by the war, must be readjusted. The position of women in industry must be determined. The war industries board, the war labor board and other governmental agencies must be continued or substitutes be created. In the opinion of officials for the solution of these problems, the returned soldier must have work and a home. This is a reconstruction question that congress will be called upon to consider. Other new legislation making possible the return to a peace basis will come before congress.

Government control of the railroads, while insured for 21 months longer, must be decided as to permanency or abandonment, as well as the control of the telegraph and telephone systems. Supervision of food and fuel distribution, and the fixing of prices for necessary commodities are other problems of reconstruction.

With the war behind and peace ahead, government officials today in no wise discount the tasks of the future. The great problems of war must be supplemented by the important questions of peace and reconstruction.

LABOR UNIONS IN EARLY MORNING PARADE

The labor organizations of this city observed Victory day with a parade of their own this morning, and despite the fact that there was little time in which to prepare for the demonstration there was a good turnout and to finish. It had been planned by Trades and Labor council to hold a parade the day that the cheering news of the signing of the armistice would reach this city, but the plans of the organization were upset, yesterday, when all Lowell joined in an impromptu demonstration, which lasted from early morn till close of day—and then some.

After it became known yesterday that Gov. McCall had issued a proclamation setting aside today as Victory day, the officers of Trades and Labor council got together and immediately formulated plans for a parade to be held this morning and as a result all labor organizations of this city were requested to report on the South common this morning at 8.30 o'clock, which was to start at 9 o'clock.

The parade started at 9.15 o'clock. The route of the parade was as follows: Thornehill street to Middlesex, to Gorham, to Davis square, to Central, to Merrimack, to Bridge, to Fifth, to Sixth, to Bridge, to Merrimack, to Moody, to Cabot and to Merrimack as far as Dutton, where it was followed by the chief marshal and reviewed by the chief marshal and Mayor Perry D. Thompson and other city officials.

There were no floats in the parade for the brief time in which the demonstration was organized did not permit the arranging of floats, but nevertheless the marchers made a fine appearance and they made up in numbers what was lacking in floats and other features. The parade was headed by a platoon of police headed by Lieut. Connor. Then came the Lowell

From the moment that "Fighting Jack" Pershing, commander of the American forces, landed in France, the fate of the German hordes was sealed. The arrival of American troops saved Paris and saved the world from pan-Germanism. The gallant Yankees halted the German advance at the Marne, and enabled Marshal Foch to launch a counter offensive in July that turned the tide of battle and marked the beginning of the end of the greatest war in all history. From July until yesterday, the allied forces have been on the offensive, and the invaders have been fleeing for their border. The presence of over 2,000,000 brave American soldiers gave Foch the men to take the offensive and keep it, and enabled him to turn apparent defeat into glorious victory.

AMERICANS IN VERDUN PEACE CELEBRATION

VERDUN, Monday, Nov. 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—A great scene came into its own tonight. While the bells of the ancient cathedral were ringing the news of peace, the fortress city was illuminated and a military procession headed by the drum corps of the 26th American Division swung along the crowded streets accompanied by a detachment of French buglers representing the famed defenders of Verdun.

Only a few hours before the Germans had thrown large shells within the city walls, apparently as a reminder that Verdun was still within the range of their guns and the hills to the northeast.

Monday afternoon and night virtually was the first time that Verdun had not been shelled in that many hours almost since the war began.

N. E. Men in Parade

A large American flag was carried by the men of the New England division while the French buglers bore the tri-color of France. The soldiers were joined by a few civilians who had struggled back into Verdun since the German repulse on the north.

The procession wound its way through the streets lighted by flares and vari-colored signal lights sent off by infantrymen. The entire city was in a great blaze of glory and the illumination was visible for many miles around, even to the Germans, who lay homeward in the east. Behind the buglers marched a shouting, singing and dancing column of French, American, Seneguese and Algerian soldiers and civilian celebrants, keeping time with the drum-beats and shouting: "The war is over! Vive la France! Vive l'Amérique!"

The marchers marched until they

YANKS TOOK STENAY ON LAST DAY OF WAR

WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES
ON THE MEUSE AND MOSELLE.

Monday, Nov. 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—The last French town to fall into American hands before the armistice went into effect, was Stenay. Patrols reported they had found it empty not more than a quarter of an hour before 11 o'clock. American troops rushed through the town and in a few minutes allied flags were beginning to appear from the windows. As the church bell solemnly tolled the hour of 11, troops from the 90th division were pouring into the town.

Only a line of glowing camp fires marked the front tonight. Except for the rumble of thousands of trucks and other noises incident to the stirring of enormous armies, there is not a sound to indicate that two great forces are still facing each other. So far no violation of the armistice has been reported. There has not been an accidental burst of machine gunfire.

Most of the 800 odd persons still remaining in Stenay were still in their cellars, fearfully awaiting the bombardment which they believed would surely come as the Americans entered. Many had yielded to German persuasion or force and had retreated with the enemy. Those few who dared first to venture into the streets, greeted the Americans with tears in their eyes and fairly deluged them with questions. The majority seemed too dazed to be able to understand that fighting had stopped. With trembling hands they offered coffee and bread to their deliverers.

"Beast of Berlin"

gotated peace to create sympathy for the men who have run amuck for 40 months.

The world must be made safe not alone for democracy but for women and children.

This can be done in no other way than by vindicating the outraged and shamed majesty of the law.

Sir Frederick Edward Smith, attorney general of Britain, has announced that it is the fixed purpose of Britain to insist on the trial and punishment of the supercriminals of Germany.

For this purpose it is believed an international judicial tribunal will be instituted presently, perhaps to hold sessions in The Hague. Before this court the accused will be brought and accumulated evidence of their unspeakable deeds will be presented. Undoubtedly they will be given every opportunity to defend themselves if they can find anybody to present their pleas.

From the very beginning of German atrocities and submarine piracy, Britain, Belgium and France have kept a list of the German leaders responsible for the horrors which have stalked every day and night of the war period. They have collected and arranged the evidence against each accused man from Kaiser Wilhelm downward.

Tancrède Martel, noted French writer, is presenting in France the demand for an international court of justice and trial of the malefactors of Germany. Martel names 573 Germans, Bulgarians and Turks of rank, against whom charges pending range from murder to sacrilege and from theft to arson.

Martel's list includes the name of former German Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg, author of the "scrap of paper" doctrine as applied to sacred international treaty obligations.

Some of the Criminals

William Hohenzollern will be charged with supreme responsibility for bringing on the war without provocation and with sanctioning all and ordering many atrocities, among them the murder of prisoners of war and wounded men on battlefields.

Frederick William, son of William Hohenzollern, is accused of wholesale looting of homes in France, sanctioning enslavement and violation of women and other crimes.

Elitel Friedrich, his brother, is charged with robberies and ordering atrocious crimes.

Admirals Von Tirpitz and Von Capelle are charged with authorship of submarine piracy, destruction of unarmed ships at sea, and murder.

Rupprecht of Bavaria ordered massaeres of civilians in Russian Poland and deportations in Lille and other Belgian cities.

Duke of Mecklenburg is accused of robberies in St. Quentin and Noyon.

General Von Hindenburg ordered poisoning of Russian prisoners and pillage and arson in France.

General Von Mackensen ordered the murder of 1000 innocent children, 10

to 17 years old, in Rumania.

Generals Von Graevenitz, Von Roedtsch, Fleck, Schubert, Von Bulow, Von Bernhard, Von Boehm, Klaus, Von Manteuffel Von Dreight, Stenger and Major Bulow are charged with ordering atrocities.

The authors of the orgy of Lille, the massacre of Louvain, the destruction of Aerschot, the murders of Edith Cavell and Captain Fryatt, of the attacks on hospital ships, red cross ambulances and field hospitals are all known and listed. Not yet will their names be made public, lest some of them escape before they can be apprehended.

Of course the constitution of the international trial court has already been given consideration. The names of the internationally-known jurists who will likely be called to sit on this most notable court ever assembled may not be announced with certainty. But it is regarded as highly probable that representatives of the high courts of the allied nations will be chosen.

The United States may be represented by some one of the justices of the United States supreme court. If it is thought advisable to go outside that body some jurist of the standing of William Howard Taft or Elihu Root will undoubtedly be chosen. In view of the vital and intricate legal questions bound to arise no non-judicial civilian could acceptably or properly serve on such a court.

The Kaiser, crown prince and other high criminals have sought to escape justice by taking refuge in Holland. However, if it has not been already done, the allies will soon notify the little neutrals of Europe that they will at their own peril give asylum to the Hohenzollerns and the lesser criminals.

murder of 1000 innocent children, 10

to 17 years old, in Rumania.

Generals Von Graevenitz, Von Roedtsch, Fleck, Schubert, Von Bulow, Von Bernhard, Von Boehm, Klaus, Von Manteuffel Von Dreight, Stenger and Major Bulow are charged with ordering atrocities.

The authors of the orgy of Lille, the massacre of Louvain, the destruction of Aerschot, the murders of Edith Cavell and Captain Fryatt, of the attacks on hospital ships, red cross ambulances and field hospitals are all known and listed. Not yet will their names be made public, lest some of them escape before they can be apprehended.

Of course the constitution of the international trial court has already been given consideration. The names of the internationally-known jurists who will likely be called to sit on this most notable court ever assembled may not be announced with certainty. But it is regarded as highly probable that representatives of the high courts of the allied nations will be chosen.

The United States may be represented by some one of the justices of the United States supreme court. If it is thought advisable to go outside that body some jurist of the standing of William Howard Taft or Elihu Root will undoubtedly be chosen. In view of the vital and intricate legal questions bound to arise no non-judicial civilian could acceptably or properly serve on such a court.

The Kaiser, crown prince and other high criminals have sought to escape justice by taking refuge in Holland. However, if it has not been already done, the allies will soon notify the little neutrals of Europe that they will at their own peril give asylum to the Hohenzollerns and the lesser criminals.

send soldiers Christmas gifts to France. This is denied by James Jackson, New England manager of the American Red Cross, who said last night:

"If anyone intends sending a Christmas gift to a soldier boy in France, let nothing that has happened in the past few days change his plan."

"Nobody knows when our soldier boys are coming back home. This all depends upon so many circumstances as to make even a guess unwise. The arrangement now is that these gifts must be in the hands of the Red Cross for approval by Nov. 20. Packages must not weigh more than three pounds."

TROLLEY SERVICE CURTAILMENT

Manager Lees of the Bay State street railway announced last night that beginning this morning and continuing to December 1, cars would only run to Boylston street and Sprague's Corner on the Wigganville line. This curtailment before December 1, which was the time, as stated in yesterday's paper, when the change in operation was scheduled to become effective, is made necessary by the decree of the public service commission that the rail is not good enough for any degree of speed beyond Sprague's corner.

Share Their Burden Over There!

Team Workers can obtain more pledge or subscription cards today at War Work Headquarters.

BE SURE EVERYBODY IN LOWELL has his or her name on a subscription card and that every card is filed at Headquarters, as the MEMORIAL BOOK OF SUBSCRIBERS for the City Library will be compiled from these cards and every donor should see that his name is in the card index before the book is made up from Headquarters.

PARADE FROM MEMORIAL HALL AT 1.30

All the team workers, captains, and in fact the whole organization, will parade today at 1.30 o'clock—directly after the luncheon, which will be at 12 o'clock sharp as the reports have to follow. BRING YOUR FLAGS. Standards and slogans will be provided.

No Requisition Needed

ANTHRACITE BRIQUETS

We have received a few cars of this FUEL which is ready for immediate delivery. Can be used successfully in the range or heater. Some use No. 1 Buckwheat with it. Better give us a trial order before the cold weather arrives.
